RYAN PLEDGES DEMOCRATIC AID TO FARMER AND WAGE-EARNER

Presidential Nominee, in Acceptance Speech, Says Progressives Can Look to Party for Help.

INTEREST DUE TO G. O. P. POLICIES

Party Platform Stands for Progress Without Intervention of Faction, Bloc or Section.

By the Associated Press.
LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 19.—Lincoln returned to normal today, after having last night witnessed its annual celebration attending the funeral of members of the Ryan family of their nomination in the Democratic party.

William Jennings Bryan had been notified by Middle-Western cities on three different occasions, when he was notified of his nomination for the presidency. Last night "Brother Charlie," Governor of the State and its adopted son, was notified of his nomination in his political life when he was notified of his nomination as Democratic candidate for the presidency.

Democratic party leaders over the political spotlight in Lincoln to Chicago, Clem L. Lusk, chairman of the National Committee, returning on a mid-train with other party dignitaries.

Foreign Literary Discussed.
Bryan yesterday went over the details of his literary, and announcement has yet been made of any dates or places. Shaver, leaving, however, said he told the Governor "to go to it" and intimated the nominee would tour this State before going overseas.

The Fair opens in Lincoln, Aug. 1, but whether the Governor will appear as a political speaker remains undetermined. Shaver announced that John W. Davis, the party standard bearer, would touch the Middle West during his campaign and probably would make speeches in Omaha and Lincoln.

The University of Nebraska, Lincoln, is preparing a banquet for the celebration last night, and at times, demonstrators nearly filled the stadium, while some scattered onto the football field close to the speaker's platform.

Chances on G. O. P. Chances.
Greeted declarations by the presidential nominee and Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, who made the notification, in which they denounced the Republican administration for failure to solve many of the urgent needs of the country and urged the principles for which the Democratic party would fight to win a victory in the November election.

The speakers were handicapped by the lack of lighting facilities, and the unusual experience of listening to the remarks to an audience seated in semi-darkness, only light reflecting upon the faces of the speakers.

Speakers carried every sound to the platform throughout the night. Speakers and others of the notification committee at times were able to hear the address, as the amplification of hand-sound on the platform and in immediate vicinity was so voluminous that it drowned out the voices of the crowd.

Pay Tribute to Davis.
Bryan paid a tribute to his party standard bearer, John W. Davis, entitled the Democratic nomination for the presidency will be found on page 15.

Dr. Abrams Electric Wave Theory Called Unfounded; It Had 3500 Adherents

Scientific American Makes Public Report Condemning Medical Practice Which Other Doctors Had Denounced.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The electronic reactions theory of the late Dr. Abrams of San Francisco is pronounced unfounded in a report by a special investigation committee, which the Scientific American has made public. The report followed a year of inquiry. The committee which brought in its condemnatory report consisted of Dr. William S. Park, director of the Bureau of Labor of the Health Department; Dr. Walter C. Alvarez of the University of California; Robert C. Post, president of the Englewood Hospital, and J. Malcolm Bird and Austin C. Lescarboura, editors of the Scientific American.

Dr. Abrams, who several years ago announced that electrons were the basis of life and the foundation of health, died on Jan. 13, the report says, on the eve of his appearance as a witness at the trial of Dr. Mary Lecoque, an E. R. A. (Electronic reactions of Abrams) practitioner of Jonesboro, Ark., who had been charged with using the mails to defraud. He left an estate valued at from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000.

Dr. Abrams, the report continued, contended that a drop of blood contains millions of electrons which reflected many characteristics of a person. By the use of an instrument called the reflexophone, he maintained he could detect cancer, tuberculosis and other diseases. Diagnosis of a drop of blood, he said, would reveal not only the presence of diseases, if any, but also the age of the person, his race or religion, and the probable length of his life.

Electric Wave Cure.
It was his theory that after disease had been detected by his method, a cure could be effected by means of the reflexophone, which used electric waves to offset other waves within the body.

Dr. Abrams had many followers and his theory won the support of some prominent men, although it was denounced by the American Medical Association. According to the investigating committee's report, there were at least 3500 records of E. R. A. practitioners at one time.

As prospective patients were invited to send drops of their blood for analysis, a great mail-order business was built up by Dr. Abrams. Dr. Lecoque of Jonesboro was one of the practitioners and her arrest followed after, it is alleged, she had diagnosed chicken blood as that of a human being.

HOGAN ROADHOUSE WRECKED BY EARLY MORNING BLAST

The Blue Front Cafe on South Broadway Rendezvous of Gangsters, Is Destroyed.

TWO MEN ARE HELD FOR INVESTIGATION

Some Patients at Mount St. Rose's Sanitarium Suffering From Shock as Result of Detonation.

The Blue Front Cafe, a one-story frame roadhouse at 9025 South Broadway, known as the resort of "Jelly Roll" Hogan and his gang, was wrecked by a bomb or charge of dynamite at 3:20 a. m. today.

Concussion from the explosion broke windows in houses in the neighborhood, including Mount St. Rose Sanitarium, the grounds of which are separated from Hogan's place by a street, causing many of the patients in the institution to suffer from shock.

The explosive was placed against the south wall of the building, and tore out the brick foundation on that side, blew out the south wall and demolished the interior.

Men Tossed Out of Bed.
Two men, Daniel Finnegan, a carpenter of 134 Lemay Ferry road, and Robert Cheever, a laborer of 2915 South Broadway, who were asleep in a rear room of the building, were tossed out of bed, but escaped injury. Both were detained by the police for investigation.

Finnegan said Hogan left the place with a woman at 3:30 p. m., and Cheever locked up for the night at 11:30. They were awakened at 2 a. m., he said, by Hogan on the telephone, who said he would not return to spend the night there. They were reawakened later by the explosion. Both say they did not observe any suspicious looking persons in the neighborhood.

The detonation was terrific, according to officials of Mount St. Rose's Sanitarium. The 150 patients were awakened, and it was said many of them were suffering from shock today. A cottage of the sanitarium, about 100 feet north of Hogan's place, was damaged.

The Eight convalescent patients and a priest were sleeping there. All the windows were blown out, the walls were cracked and door frames were twisted. Damage to the building alone was estimated at $1500. A few window panes in the main building, about 250 yards north of Hogan's place were also broken.

Hogan Is Retained.
Damage to the roadhouse building, owned by John Vollman, 9025 South Broadway, was estimated at $2000. Interior furnishings consisted of a car along the south wall, tables and chairs for diners and the bedroom furnishings, all of which were demolished. Hogan estimated this damage at $1000.

The place was raided Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff from Clayton, who confiscated liquor, beer and revolvers and shotguns. Hogan protested at first, but after being placed in handcuffs by Deputy Sheriff Roth, became docile and submitted to the raiding.

Complaints About Raid.
The deputies reported to Sheriff William Jones that Hogan, in their presence, telephoned a complaint against the raid to the home of Adam Henry Jones, Prosecuting Attorney of St. Louis County. It appears that Jones was not at home, and Hogan was heard to inform Jones that the deputies were leaving him without so much as one revolver to protect himself.

TESTIMONY ENDS, ARGUMENT BEGUN, IN FRANKS CASE

Thomas Marshall, Legal Expert for State, Takes Floor Against Slaying, Loeb and Leopold.

DARROW AND CROWE BOTH TO BE HEARD

Judge Caverly Probably Will Take Several Days After Lawyers Finish to Fix Punishment.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Testimony was concluded today in the case of Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb, confessed murderers of Robert Franks. Dr. William O. Krohn, State alienist, was the last witness. When both sides declared their cases complete, Thomas Marshall, legal expert for State Attorney Crowe, was announced as the opening orator for the prosecution.

Death Penalty Demanded.
"There is only one penalty applicable here," said Marshall at the start of his argument, "that penalty is death. The law of the State is asking for mitigation on the plea the slayers are mentally ill."

"If this case does not deserve death, then there has never been a case in Illinois that deserved that punishment."

Summing up arguments may take several days. Then Judge John R. Caverly has intimated he will take several days to consider the facts and theories brought out before the jury.

The State is demanding the death sentence for the youths, contending they are mentally sound. The defense is asking for mitigation on the plea the slayers are mentally ill.

All three defense attorneys, Benjamin Bachrach, Walter Bachrach and Clarence Darrow, chief of counsel, probably will be heard in behalf of the defendants, and State Attorney Crowe said "a few hours" would be all he would require.

He asked the court this afternoon for permission to have the defense make the opening and closing arguments on the theory that the burden of proof of mitigation is on the State.

Out; Krohn Cross-Examined.
Expectation of oratory by attorneys drew to the hearing today the usual crowd of spectators, undeterred by a soaking rain.

The overcast sky made the courtroom dark. The lights were turned on. It was like a night scene, when Dr. Krohn took the stand for further cross-examination by Benjamin Bachrach for the defense.

Leopold and Loeb were in good spirits as they entered court after a brief rest. The exercise was to be preceded by a big parade of the old-fashioned type, designed to give the whole affair something of the flavor of a big political rally.

Everything was in readiness here for the notification. Evanston was dressed in her best, with flags and banners flying and her citizens decorated all the streets about the Daves home. The wide lawn looking out toward the lake scarcely more than 300 yards distant had been covered with a speaker's platform and with seats for the members of the official notification committee and the hundreds of notables, including Senators, Representatives, Governors and other public officials who had sent word that they would be present.

Drizzle Follows Storm.
Evanston was drenched by an early morning thunderstorm which resolved itself into a slow drizzle that kept decorations soaked and caused worried looks on the faces of those in charge of the notification ceremonies.

Information was sought from the Chicago Weather Bureau and word came back that a temporary lull in the storm was in sight late in the day. A thunderstorm area was said to be over this region and Prof. H. J. Cox, forecaster, was unable to guarantee that it would not rain tonight.

General Pershing Visits His Old Friend Dawes at Latter's Home

Charles G. Dawes, left, and Gen. John J. Pershing were friends when Pershing was an army lieutenant and Dawes, now Republican nominee for the vice-presidency, was a lawyer at Lincoln, Neb. Sunday the General visited his friend Dawes at the latter's home in Evanston, Ill., where this photograph was taken.

NOTIFICATION OF DAWES TO BE LIKE OLD-TIME RALLY

Big Parade Will Precede Ceremonies Tonight on Lawn of His Home at Evanston, Ill.

By the Associated Press.
EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 19.—Charles G. Dawes, once Currency Controller, once the A. E. F.'s chief purchasing agent, once Federal Budget Director and once head of the Reparation Commission's Expert Committee, waited at his home here today for the coming of Republican leaders to add formally another title to his name—that of Republican vice-presidential nominee.

The party chieftains gathered by the hundreds, and even by the thousands, in Chicago, and tonight they will march on this quiet little city on the shore of Lake Michigan to notify Dawes in a formal manner of his selection as the Republican candidate.

The notification will take place at ceremonies to be held on the lawn of the stately Dawes home, starting at 2 o'clock central daylight saving time. The exercises are to be preceded by a big parade of the old-fashioned type, designed to give the whole affair something of the flavor of a big political rally.

Everything was in readiness here for the notification. Evanston was dressed in her best, with flags and banners flying and her citizens decorated all the streets about the Daves home. Gen. Dawes and the committee in charge declared, however, that the ceremonies would be held "rain or shine," and preparations were made to stand a canopy over the speakers' stand in event of rain.

Officials of the Republican National Committee, working with Evanston citizens in arranging for the ceremonies expect thousands of people to be present.

CABINETS OF FRANCE AND GERMANY O.K. LONDON PACT

Unanimous Approval Given Reparations Agreement by Ministries of Both Countries.

REICHSTAG CHIEFS CONFER WITH MARX

German Chancellor Tells Leaders Herriot Went to Limit in Matter of Concessions.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Aug. 19.—The French Cabinet today unanimously approved the work of the French delegation at the international conference in London and thanked it for the important results it had attained in the interests of France.

The Cabinet met this morning, and after having listened attentively to a report by Premier Herriot on the proceedings and results of the conference, gave its unqualified approval of the accord which had been concluded at the lengthy meeting at the British capital.

It was decided that the Premier should read his declaration before the Senate and Chamber Thursday, giving a complete report of the work of the conference to both bodies of the French Legislature.

Cordial Reception for Premier.
Meantime, the Ministers will attack an important problem of internal policy, meeting this evening to consider measures connected with the high cost of living, notably in relation to the price of bread.

The cordial reception accorded Herriot this morning by his colleagues of the Cabinet echoed the enthusiasm of the throngs of men and women who came to greet him when he arrived from London yesterday.

The popular demonstration in and about the St. Lazare station when the Premier arrived was an unmistakable expression of popular rejoicing over the accord concluded in London, but it also was in the opinion of observers, a personal tribute to Herriot.

Cabinet Action Encouraging.
The approval given by the Cabinet today to the work of the French delegation in London is said by competent observers to augur well for the survival of Herriot's report through the two or three weeks of parliamentary buffeting it will have to undergo.

Whatever the results of the debate in the two houses, and it is not yet the Premier's course will receive any serious setback in either, Herriot already has the satisfaction of the knowledge that the general councils of three departments of Central France have pronounced congratulatory resolutions praising his attitude in London.

Decision of Reichstag Expected at End of Next Week.
BERLIN, Aug. 19.—It is generally expected that the Reichstag will meet Friday and that its decision on the results of the London reparations conference will be taken at the end of next week.

Yesterday's meeting of the Cabinet, under the chairmanship of President Ebert, unanimously approved the German delegation's attitude during the London negotiations, and the Government was determined to dissolve the Reichstag in the event of the latter failing to sanction the London pact.

Government's Policy Clarified.
The Government's policy in this regard was made clear to the members of the Reichstag parties in discussion after the Cabinet meeting, when Chancellor Marx laid before them the results of the London pact. He emphasized that from his personal interviews with Premier Herriot in London he believed the French Premier had the best intentions and could be trusted, that his aim was the pacification of Europe.

The Chancellor expressed belief that Herriot would have made further concessions on the question of the Ruhr evacuation if political considerations had not prevented him.

MELTING OF GLACIER IN CALIFORNIA CAUSES A DESTRUCTIVE FLOW OF MUD

By the Associated Press.
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 19.—ESSENCE of its usual blanchet of snow has caused such rapid melting of a glacier on Mount Shasta, that a flow of mud from one to three feet in depth has swept down one of the mountain valleys; broken water mains of the town of McCloud covered roads and discolored the waters of the McCloud River for many miles. While annual flows of mud, brought down by the melting of the glacier, are usual, the present one is the heaviest in years. The breaking of the water pipes is attributed to broken off masses of rock which have been swept down with the mud.

The mud flowing into the McCloud River, has completely changed the color and consistency of that stream and is noticeable in the Sacramento River as far south as Redding.

NEW TAX APPEAL BOARD HEARS FIRST CASE TODAY

Virginia's Protest Will Mark First Public Settlement of Federal Tax Matters.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The recently created Federal Board of Tax Appeals, with its machinery requiring publicity of tax returns, is scheduled to hold its first hearing today, with the opening of arguments in the appeal of John H. Parrot of Roanoke, Va.

While the amount involved in the tax on only $35,000, interest attaches to the case because it represents the first formal attempt to settle such a case in public. Parrot's contention concerns payments to him of $25,000 from the American Coal Co. in 1929, and he holds that the conditions surrounding his receipt of the money makes it not taxable as income.

GUEST KILLED ON OPERATOR'S FIRST DAY ON ELEVATOR

Texas Merchant, Who Registered Yesterday at Hotel Maryland, Meets Death in Lobby There.

Leigh D. Boyd's first day operating an elevator at the Maryland Hotel resulted in the death there at 8:15 this morning of O. L. Scudder, a merchant from Blossom, Tex., who registered at the hotel yesterday. Scudder was crushed to death by an elevator operated by Boyd, which he tried to enter from the lobby as it was starting upward.

Boyd, who was held by the police for the coroner, ran an elevator in another hotel here for three months at one time, but said he hadn't operated one for a year or till today, and had made only about 15 trips today before the fatal accident. He is 24 years old and resides at 3929 Westminster place. At police headquarters Boyd described the accident as follows:

"I brought a load of passengers down and emptied the car, then got a call from an upper floor. I started the car up on 'half power' and started to close the door into the lobby at the same time. Just then Scudder came along. I hadn't seen him coming. It seemed to me he stumbled in. I threw the lever over to cut off the power, but I must have put it on full speed instead, and the car shot up."

Scudder was jerked upward from the lobby floor and crushed between the floor of the car and the upper sill of the door. The car was stopped at the second floor. Scudder died before an ambulance arrived.

Edward Dunn, manager of the hotel, said Boyd had been placed in charge of the elevator after passing a test only a few minutes before the accident.

Scudder's body is held at the morgue pending word from relatives. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

CLAIM AGAINST TOWN
FOR BREAKUP OF HOME

Woman Seeks $6,000, Alleging Failure to Halt Bootleggers' Operations.

Responsibility of a town and its
for the operations of moonshiners and bootleggers is at issue in a suit filed by Mrs. Belle Rable against the town of Lebanon, Ill.
and its Mayor, John E. North. She charges the activities of moonshiners and bootleggers in selling liquor in her husband's home, which she claims was broken up by the authorities.

Mrs. Rable now lives at O'Fallon, Ill., but formerly she lived with her husband, James Rable, at Lebanon, whom she divorced last year. At last week's meeting of the Lebanon City Council claims which she had filed against the town and Mayor North were presented. Each was for $3,000. Each charged neglect of duty in failing to enforce the law against the moonshiners and bootleggers.

The reading of the claims was held in silence. There was no comment or motion and no action was taken. They were merely recorded on the minutes as having been "received." Letters to the council and to the Mayor, accompanying the claims, were withheld.
Since the filing of the claims a number of warrants have been issued by City Marshal Howard and a number of raids have been made by prohibition enforcement men. Evidence was obtained at places and arrests were made.
At others warning appeared to have been given and nothing was found.

R. H. Horner of Lebanon is Mrs.
Rable's attorney. He said today that he had not acted for her in the presentation of the claims, but he anticipated that suits would be filed.

Mayor North was absent this morning. City Attorney Chamberlin is in Lebanon.

TRY LEMON JUICE TO WHITEN SKIN

The only harmless way to bleach the skin is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orinoid White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole year's supply of the most wonderful skin whitener and beautifier.

Mixing this creamy fragrant cream blend into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and ever-white complexion also as a cosmetic, and for the skin. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it is not immediately after it is prepared.

MAN SHOT ON JULY 13 DURING BRAWL, DIES

Another Is Being Held Following Affray in Lobby of Olive Street Hotel.

Lawrence Pelster, 24 years old, of 2308 Palm street, died at City Hospital yesterday of a bullet wound suffered in a brawl in the lobby of the Empress-Rialto Hotel, 3534 Olive street, on the morning of July 13.

Harry Bernstein, 20, of 3020 Sheridan avenue, identified by two friends of Pelster, is under bond on an assault to kill charge and has been ordered to appear at the inquest.

Pelster, with his two companions, John R. Lynch of 2922 Herbert street and John Crewe of 5834 Westminster place, were found by a policeman at Grand boulevard and Olive street looking for a physician. They said they entered the hotel after an evening of heavy drinking and that Pelster quarreled with a man who appeared in the lobby. Pelster hit the man with a whisky bottle and was shot in return, they said. Lynch and Crewe identified Bernstein when he was arrested a few minutes later but Pelster pleaded loss of memory. Bernstein refused to make a statement.

MEXICANS KIDNAP AMERICAN

Lumberman Held for Ransom; Washington Area.

Copyright, 1936, by the Press and Publishing Co., Inc., New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 13.—United States Charge d'Affaires Schoenfeld has made representations to the Mexican Foreign Office in behalf of an American lumberman kidnaped in the State of Durango and held for ransom.

Schoenfeld was advised of the kidnapping by the American Consul in the city of Durango, who said the captive's name was Berreman and that he was manager of a large lumber and turpentine company operating in Durango.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The American Embassy at Mexico City reported today that it had appealed to the Mexican Foreign office to obtain the release of R. T. Berreman, an American citizen and general manager of a lumber and turpentine company, who was kidnaped by bandits on Saturday at Tepic, Jalisco.

The embassy asked that urgent measures be taken to apprehend and punish the kidnapers. David Myers, American Consul at Durango, has gone to Tepic to investigate the kidnapping.

FIGHTING IN TRANS-JORDANIA

Wahabis Take Several Towns; Driven Out of Tarash.

By the Associated Press.

JEDDAH, Arabia, Aug. 13.—Bitter fighting took place yesterday between the Wahabis and Government forces in Trans-Jordan, according to news which reached here today. The Wahabis attacked and occupied several towns, including Tarash. Then the Government forces, under command of Khaisat Eddin and Arif, drove the invaders out of Tarash. The Government forces, assisted by local tribesmen, killed 300 Wahabis, took many prisoners and captured a number of camels and rifles.

Sporadic fighting between Trans-Jordanian troops and the Wahabis has taken place at various times during the past two years. The territory is governed by Emir Abdullah, second son of King Hussein, of the Hedjaz, an elder brother of King Faisal, of Mesopotamia. The political status of the country has not yet been finally settled although it falls within the Palestine mandate and there has been discussion of a proposed merger with Palestine.

SUNDAY "MOVIES" FOR PANA

By the Associated Press.

PANA, Ill., Aug. 13.—Stating that business interests and the citizens of Pana favored Sunday movie pictures, Mayor E. G. Johnson has exercised his veto power and has given Pana Sunday movies, after a fight of 15 years by supporters. Three weeks ago the City Council had voted a tie on an ordinance legalizing Sunday motion picture shows, and Mayor Johnson vetoed for them. Two weeks later, the council, by a seven to three vote, passed an ordinance which repealed the former action. Mayor Johnson's veto of this repealing ordinance yesterday assures Sunday "movies," because there are not sufficient anti-movie votes in the council to override the veto. The shows will open next Sunday.

WOMAN TAKES DISINFECTANT

Mrs. Annie Wilhelm, 59 years old, a widow, of 7112 Alabama avenue, is recovering at city hospital from the effects of disinfectant which she swallowed at her home last evening.

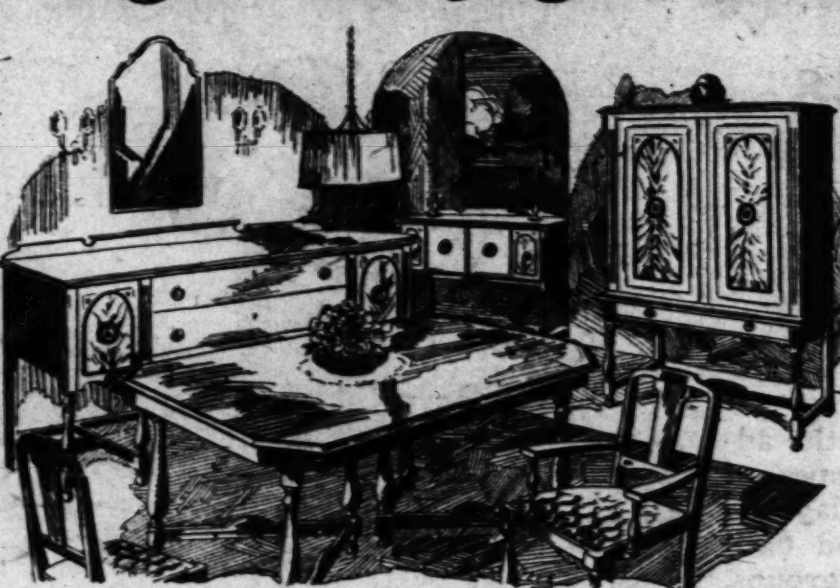

Her daughter, Miss Nettie Wilhelm, said her mother had swallowed the liquid after chiding her about staying out late and threatening suicide if the daughter was not more dutiful.

Collector Reports 985 Robbery.

John J. Avelline, 29 years old, a collector for the Laclede Gas Light Co., reported that at 2 p. m. yesterday he was held up by two men with revolvers as he emerged from the yard of 1485 North Leffingwell avenue and robbed of $55. The robbers fled on foot after ordering him to look the other way.

SNOWDEN SAYS FRENCH SHOULD QUIT RUHR NOW

patron of the Ruhr affect the loan?" Snowden was asked. He replied:

"The floating of a $40,000,000 loan is the pivot on which the Dawes plan must work. Nothing could have given that loan a better chance of success than the announcement of the immediate evacuation of the Ruhr."

"The London agreement itself, with its elaborate arbitration clauses and its safeguards for the protection of the loan, ought, in spite of the regrettable matter of the Ruhr, to insure the successful floating of the loan, but an immediate evacuation would have had such a strong psychological effect upon world opinion that the success of the loan would have been placed beyond all doubt."

"I have seen in the French press many sarcastic and bitter comments about the influence of international finance on the conference. I have been caricatured as the tool of international financiers."

"I think it is only fair for me to say that the international financiers have never tried to influence the decisions of the conference in any political matter, and, when their views have been sought, they have confined themselves solely to expressing their opinions as to the conditions on which the public could reasonably be expected to subscribe to the loan."

"Neither the bankers nor the investing public could regard the continued military occupation of a borrowing country as an additional security for a loan."

"However, the occupation of the Ruhr, apart from the immediate evacuation of certain points, is to continue for a maximum period of a year. But, from the date of the coming into operation of the Dawes plan, the occupation will take a new form. There cannot be any interference whatever with the full economic freedom of German industry. The occupation will be invisible."

"What can the French themselves hope to get out of the occupation?" the correspondent asked. "French Designs on Industries." "The French industrialists, of whom Loucheur is the guiding and inspiring spirit, have designs upon the economic control of certain great German industries which they have made no effort to conceal," he said. "There is a very real danger that political means will be used to advance these designs. The proposed commercial agreement between France and Germany is one method by which this project may be advanced."

"What bearing has the talk of the inter-allied debts upon the conference?" "You ask me about the inter-allied debts. The French repeatedly raised this question informally during the conference, and I saw that Herriot made a statement upon the matter on his return to Paris. I understand it is proposed that a conference upon the subject should be held at an early date. I shall be happy to discuss this matter with the French Finance Minister, and I can agree with Herriot that it will be discussed from the point of view of equity."

"I cannot be indifferent to the importance of an early settlement of this problem," Snowden concluded with a smile. "In view of the fact that I have to find $30,000,000 pounds (approximately $155,000,000) yearly to pay the interest on this French debt, in addition to an even larger sum in payment of our debt to America."

MACDONALD ASKS ALLIES TO HASTEN EVACUATION

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Prime Minister MacDonald, of Great Britain, has written to Premier Herriot, of France, and Premier Theunis, of Belgium, urging them to take steps to quit the Ruhr before one year, the time limit set in the London agreement.

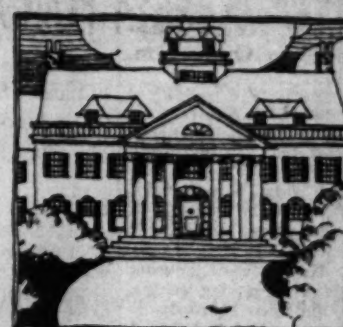

The letter, written Saturday after the four-hour session in which Premier Herriot, Chancellor Marx and Premier Theunis reached an agreement on the Ruhr evacuation, says that, in view of the notes exchanged between France, Belgium and Germany, the three nations primarily concerned, it is necessary that the British Government's position, as the Prime Minister frequently explained it during the latter days of the conference, be reiterated in writing. The letter says:

"The British Government has never recognized the legality of the Ruhr occupation, nor the interpretation of the clauses in the treaty of Versailles upon which their allies acted. They hoped that, as the Ruhr occupation was undertaken solely for economic purposes, it would be withdrawn as soon as the Dawes report was put into operation. The occupying Powers and Germany have agreed to accept an arrangement whereby the occupation shall not extend beyond a year, but may be terminated earlier."

"The British Government is without prejudice to the position which they and their predecessors have taken with regard to the interpretation of the treaty, but is anxious to see the Dawes report in operation, and simply note the agreement, and urge most strongly that the Governments concerned should take every possible step to hasten the evacuation because, in the opinion of the British Government, continued occupation may prejudice the working of the Dawes plan and jeopardize arrangements agreed to at the London conference."

WATSON SAYS DAVES
PLAN ANSWERS DAVIS

Indiana Senator, at Chicago Luncheon, Defends Foreign Policy of Republicans.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—Allied German acceptance of the Daves plan was declared by United States Senator Watson of Indiana, in an address today before the Hamilton Club of Chicago, to be the Republican party's answer to the inquiry of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, as to what single contribution the present Republican administration had made to the peace of the world.

The arms conference and the Daves plan represent the two longest steps ever taken for the pacification of the world, and the United States, under a Republican administration, took both of them without belonging to the League of Nations, or being in any way entangled in its political involvements.

Senator Watson said, "In very truth, if we had believed, we no longer could have occupied the impartial position of umpire, and could not have exerted the powerful and conclusive influence that we did."

High Praise for Daves.
"As Charles G. Daves was big enough to head the first budget commission and successfully launch that craft on an uncharted sea," said Senator Watson, "and as he was big enough to formulate the plan that has restored peace to Europe, and planted hope in the hearts of people around the world, surely he is big enough to be the next Vice President of the United States."

The Indiana Senator assailed the Democratic position on the League of Nations and on foreign affairs, as inconsistent and grotesque. The Democratic platform proposal for a National referendum on the League, he said was "fanciful, illegal, unconstitutional and revolutionary."

"The truth is," he added, "that our Democratic friends, being alarmed at the majority given against the League four years ago, were afraid to embody in their platform a mere unequivocal demand that we join that organization, and yet, on the other hand, did not have quite enough courage to throw it out altogether, because of what they said and did four years ago, and further because of the influence of Woodrow Wilson's friends in the New York convention and in the party."

The whole thing, in other words, resolved itself into a question of expediency, and not one of right; into a proposal for votes and not one for principle, and this proposition appears all the more grotesque in the light of the opposition of William Jennings Bryan and his brother, Charles, to our participation in the League of Nations in any event and under any condition."

Quoting from speeches by Mr. Daves in the campaign of 1928, declaring it to be the "duty and interest of America to join to relieve the world of war as soon as possible" through the League, Senator Watson accused the Democratic nominee as now having "turned squarely about, faced in the opposite direction and feebly proposing that a vote be taken on this question before we finally take the step."

The election of 1928, Senator Watson said, had provided a referendum, and the course of the Republican party under Presidents Harding and Coolidge had been in strict accord with that referendum.

NAVY REPAIRS TO BE KEPT WITHIN BUDGET, IS ORDER
Similar Restriction Last Year Caused Withdrawal of Four Battleships During Maneuvers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, acting Secretary of the Navy, yesterday broadcast an order to the fleet and shore stations to practice rigid economy in repairs to battleships and other naval vessels in order to keep within the appropriations.

During the last fiscal year only approximately 70 per cent of necessary repairs were made in the fleet and the result was quite detrimental. With no more money available this year, the Navy started in July with a 30 per cent handicap and officials and naval officers are not a bit happy over the situation.

Four battleships were withdrawn from the line during the fleet maneuvers last winter because their boilers were not considered safe under the pressure necessary to maintain the required speed. Some of these ships have since been overhauled and are not capable of maintaining their places in the line probably for at least 18 months. Every effort will be made to keep absolutely essential repairs up-to-date, the necessity for rigid economy promises to result in another farroup when the fleet maneuvers again roll around next winter.

U. S. and Sweden Ratify Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Ratifications of the liquor treaty between Sweden and the United States were formally exchanged today at the State Department.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 13.—

Gov. Bryan on the formal notification vice presidential candidate the Notification Committee and Fellow Citizens:

THE generous statement of your chairman in presenting your message, and in placing before this audience and into the ears of unseen millions throughout the land his encouragement and cheer to those who believe in a government by the people, is sincerely appreciated.

I would be wholly lacking in impulses of humanity if I failed to appreciate the great honor the Democratic party has conferred upon me by nominating me for Vice President of the United States. I would be derelict in my obligations to the Democratic party and to the nation as well if I failed to recognize the responsibilities accompanying that honor.

The desire on the part of the citizens of Lincoln that the notification take place here was very gratifying to me. I have made my home here for 30 years. It is here and from here that I have taken part in the business, social life and the political life of the city and State. I am indebted to the people of Lincoln and of the State of Nebraska for whatever success I may have achieved.

My connection for more than 20 years with the publication of Lincoln's "The Commonwealth," a national magazine devoted to the defense and welfare of the common people in their inalienable rights, gave me an opportunity to try to apply the principles of "equal rights to all and special privileges to none" to the political problems that are constantly confronting the people of every city and of every state.

My connection with the problems of government, city and state, in which the people of Lincoln and the State of Nebraska, regardless of party affiliation or station in life, have operated and supported me, are largely responsible for the high honor that this occasion confers.

As a business man who has been endeavoring to apply business principles to government and not as an experienced platform speaker, I will give to the national leader all the support my abilities will permit.

Party "in Sympathy With Farmers' Needs."

By the selection of one from the heart of the great middle west as its candidate for the Vice Presidency, the Democratic party recognizes the importance of agriculture as one of the industries of the nation, and has the assurance that a party is in direct sympathy with the needs and advancement of the farmers of the country. No man should accept a nomination without full realization on both sides that such a selection imposes on the one chosen a firm obligation to the whole people to stand true to the ideal of America. The ambitions of the individual are of no consequence and must not stand in the way of the preservation of a success of a democratic form of government which can only be secured and maintained by guarding the happiness, prosperity and contentment of the people residing in all sections of the country.

This nation is composed of diverse peoples and activities. The success of a nation requires that the desires and interests of all shall be subject to the needs and rights of all. Individuals, groups, factions and organizations, whether they be persons, parties, creeds or races, economic otherwise, must be so restrained that the equal rights of others shall not be impaired. Time, nor the occasion, permit a review of all the issues involved in the platform of the party but I will analyze some of them in the plain direct manner in which the people of the various states are accustomed to the representatives of the people, the good men and women who served as delegates to the recent National Democratic convention, did their work on the platform which they adopted upholds the ideals of America, demands a return to the policy in government of our fathers, and outlines the logical

Motor Buses Paying Their Share.
 To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

G. G. G., whose letter appears in your issue of Aug. 16, is mistaken in believing that this company's motor buses are operating "without contributing a cent to the upkeep of the streets over which they run, etc., etc." I am glad to inform him that the company pays a very substantial tax to the city for the privilege of this operation. During that portion of the year 1923 that it was in operation, its payment was at the rate of nearly $700 per annum per vehicle operated, which is by no means an inconsiderable figure. In addition to this, it paid the gasoline tax averaging nearly $50
 more per vehicle.

On a properly constructed pavement a motor bus of the type employed by us causes no appreciable damage. In proof of this I have on previous occasions pointed to the experience of Riverside drive in New York, where an enormous bus traffic has operated continuously since the pavement was laid in 1911.
 That pavement shows today not the slightest sign of wear or deterioration.
 This is a particularly appropriate demonstration, because Riverside drive is not subject to being torn up for repairs of gas pipes, electric conduits, etc., which is one of the most prevalent causes of bad condition of city pavements, and for which the users of automobiles are largely blamed. Neither is it used by trucks or overloaded commercial vehicles.

I am further glad to inform G. G. G.
 that our buses do not weigh eight tons,
 but almost exactly six tons, so that with the passengers and crews, which he estimates at an outside figure of 150 pounds,
 we have found by long experience that 140 pounds is nearer to the average weight because we carry such a large proportion of women—the total weight at the outside is 22,550 pounds. So correctly has this weight been distributed in the design of the vehicle that the weight per inch width of tire on the rear or inactive wheels (which is the vital factor in possible pavement destruction)
 is actually less than that of a Pierce-Arrow limousine.

If the operating tax paid by the People's company to the city is considered in the light of interest and sinking fund charge on the bonds necessary to construct a pavement adequate to carry the heaviest commercial traffic, the amount already earned by the city is sufficient to cover those charges on the pavement of a 60-foot roadway three and one-half miles long.

When it is considered that at the same time the company is rendering a public service that is highly appreciated by a large body of the city's taxpayers and residents, the situation is one of which we have no cause to be ashamed, and we court the widest investigation of the subject possible, for we know its inevitable result will be favorable to us.

The Case Against Republicanism.

A WRITER in the Providence Journal remarks that Mr. John W. Davis cannot honestly be said to have made out a clear, or even plausible case against the present Republican administration. In view of the well-known facts, pray let this writer tell what he would regard as further needed to make the case clear and plausible.

If he so addicted to optimism that he prefers to think all is well, and that he knows the truth? Or is he so addicted to Republicanism that nothing is clear, or even plausible to him—except it be Republicanism? I assume he is an addict of the latter type, since this type is still prevalent, notwithstanding our boasted national enlightenment. However, if he is an addic- of the former type, then his condition is extremely grave, indeed, since he is suffering delusions of well-being,
 which naturally relieve him of further responsibility in politics or any other matters requiring the exercise of judgment.
 In brief, unless he is an impervious Republican, his complacency is pathological.

Ladies' Day at the Ball Park.

I UNDERSTAND that the St. Louis Browns' baseball club has discontinued having Monday ladies' day and admitting ladies to enter free because some ladies got hit with a ball and then brought suit against the club. This seems a pity because there are many girls and women that enjoy the games but are not in a position to pay a dollar each time and there is no other place where a girl can feel free from rough and ungentlemanly
 language except the grand stand.

I wonder if the owners of the club would reconsider the matter and allow the girls to enter on Monday free of charge if each one in entering would sign a card, or list, each time releasing the club from all responsibility in case of accident? The signing of a card would not delay those entering because cards could be gotten one week and signed before presenting it the next Monday.
 Any assistance you may offer in regaining this pleasure will be much appreciated by one of a thousand girl fans.
HIGH SCHOOL GIRL.

"THE NEED OF THE HOUR."

There are no oratorical flights in Gov. Bryan's acceptance of the nomination for the vice presidency.
 It is the speech of a plain, blunt man—a man of experience, conviction, sincerity. The speech will be well received by the country, we believe. Certainly there is no proposal that will alarm anybody. There is an earnest, even impassioned discontent with many of the things that are, and these things are frankly enumerated, but the remedies advanced are well within the scope of sane, practicable procedure.

As was to be expected, Gov. Bryan discussed the farmers' difficulties and needs at length. His explanation of the farmer's plight is a recital of facts which cannot be controverted. With due respect to Mr. Coolidge, the farmer's misfortune has not been ameliorated by the present tariff law. On the contrary, that law, in its effect on the farmer, has been a peculiarly vicious example of punitive class legislation. Mr. Bryan does well in stressing that truth and in demanding the repeal of that law as a matter of elemental justice to the great industry of agriculture.

Indeed, the entire statement of the farmer's case is singularly convincing and wholesome. All the farmer wants is a square deal. He has no desire to be the beneficiary of special privilege, but he is determined not to be the victim of special privileges accorded other interests. Industrial evolution has brought new problems to the farmer. But with rational, intelligent co-operation by the Government those problems can be solved. Our great natural resources, such as water power and water transportation, should be developed, not in the special interest of the farmer but in the general interest of country and city alike—in the broad interest of producer and consumer.

Mr. Bryan, however, is not merely the spokesman of the farmer. He reveals a real quality of statesmanship in his definition of the issue of the campaign:

Honesty, efficiency and economy in governmental affairs, municipal, state and national, is the need of the hour. There must be honesty in the heart, honesty in the mind, honesty in business and honesty in official life if the ideals of the republic are to be maintained. Efficiency and economy in business and government can only be achieved by integrity in thought and in action.

That statement is a direct challenge to the extraordinary complacency of Mr. Coolidge, who, in the midst of the corruption exposure, assured the country that the wonder is not that so many have proved faithless but that so few have yielded to temptation.
 Such soothing-syrup philosophy comes pretty nearly condoning official perfidy. Designed to allay public uneasiness its effect should be quite the opposite.
 It should cause the greatest public anxiety.

Honesty in government, honesty in business, integrity in thought and in action! Mr. Bryan has presented the need of the hour with straight-shooting eloquence.

"LITTLE MISS POKER FACE"

The career of Miss Helen Wills, Olympic tennis champion and twice winner of the United States
 title at the age of 19, seems to refute the opinion expressed by Dr. Heriuf G. Lund of this city that women are not endowed by nature with the proper spirit for successful competition. Temperamentally he considered them lacking the poise and sportsmanship needed for athletic competition.

That Helen Wills possesses what Dr. Lund thinks women lack is evident alike from her success, from her demeanor on the courts and from the rom de racquet that her attitude and playing have won for her in the East—"Little Miss Poker Face."
 In England, where she participated in the "world's championship" on the Wimbledon courts, facing big handicaps in the larger and less resilient English ball, the lower-tensioned racquets, the climate and sickness, she fought gamely until eliminated, retaining composure and good nature under trying conditions. Her attitude won her the regard of all who saw her and she spread internationally the gospel of real sportsmanship by her demeanor.

In Paris, when the Olympic tournament was played,
 she emerged from her London defeat with morale unaffected and beat the very players against whom she had been pitted in England.

Some day Little Miss Poker Face will be asked to oppose Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the eccentric but brilliant French player, now world's champion.

It is not mere national pride that impels one to predict that Miss Wills will win. That's because she

RATHER LATE (From the N. Y. Times)

Elephant—Oh, Now I Recognize You!

has, in addition to playing ability, youth, persistence,
 the right temperament and the winning spirit.
 And, by way of finally refuting Dr. Lund, even should Miss Wills lose, we know that she would smile.
 And it would be a winning smile, at that, if we believe her photographs.

LAMBS TO THE WOLVES.

Like a voice in the wilderness is the appeal of the American Bankers' League for the revival of the Mellon tax plan in popular favor. Members of both parties and Republican insurgents joined in the last Congress to pass the Democratic substitute for the Mellon plan. It was, of course, the particular target of the progressives. It has been condemned by the Democratic platform. Not even the Republican convention dared espouse it.

When the Mellon idea was first broached it was thought to embody a scientific scheme which offered the maximum of relief to all taxpayers consistent with a releasing of capital for industrial investment.
 As the debate over the Mellon and Democratic plans progressed, however, convincing demonstration of the scientific qualities of the plan failed to develop.
 It was shown only that the relatively few whose incomes were in excess of $67,000 derived more benefit from the Mellon plan than from the Democratic scheme which became law. The benefits to recipients of incomes below that amount were greater under the Democratic plan.

It remains for the bankers to convince the country that the Mellon scheme, under present conditions, would yield more revenue than the new law and that the small-income class, which comprises the vast majority of voters, would be compensated thereby and by the alleged release of more capital for industry.
 It must be shown, also, that there is not available
 now for industry all the capital that industry wants or can handle with the present labor supply.

More propaganda asking the voters to vote themselves more taxes for benefits unsupported by proof or convincing demonstration would be throwing lambs to the wolves.

PROSPEROUS ABYSSINIA.

Prince Ras of Abyssinia got no raspberry out of his tour of Europe. He goes home with 30 tons of presents from the various Governments. He is called Prince Ras Tafari in the news dispatches, but "Ras"
 is the titular name of important chiefs in that country, the nominal head of the state being an Emperor or Negus. Ras Tafari is regent and heir to the throne, the Empress, Walzeru Zauditu, daughter of the late Emperor Menelik, ruling with the Ras.

Since the Abyssinians soundly defeated the invading Italians at Adowa in 1896, no nation has encroached upon Abyssinian territory. On the contrary, the country has grown by cessions from Great Britain and Italy, and is now well established and rapidly becoming civilized, though there is but one railroad, built by the French, from Somaliland to the Abyssinian capital. The country has a state bank and a good system of commercial law. Coffee grows wild there, and agriculture produces most of the tropical crops. Slavery is still permitted, although most of the European Governments have friendly relations with Abyssinia. Because of the existence of slavery, Abyssinia has up to this time been refused entry into the League of Nations.
 Otherwise, it is a great little country.

PENNIES AGAINST MILLIONS.

Nov. 8, four days after election, will be National "Forget-Me-Not" Day. Disabled veterans in hospitals and institutions throughout the United States will devote much time in preparation for the day by making little paper and cloth forget-me-nots which will be distributed by attractive young women. The proceeds of the sale will be devoted to obtaining legislative aid, hospitalization welfare and rehabilitation assistance for disabled veterans.

It may be just as well for the Republican party that the appointed day comes after election rather than before. Memory is a dangerous thing to bring into play in connection with the disabled veterans.
 When folks are asked to give of charity to these brave fellows they will be quite likely to compare their pitiful contributions to the hundreds of millions thrown away like water by Forbes, the administration's appointee for head of the Veterans' Bureau, and sunk in graft by the political henchmen of the national Republican organization. More money was stolen from the veterans in that supreme spendthrift orgy of all time than may be collected in nickels and dimes by pretty maidens one day each year for 1000 years.

THE WRITTEN WORD.

(From the famous preface to "The Nigger of the Narcissus," by Joseph Conrad.)
 A work that aspires, however humbly, to the condition of art should carry its justification in every line. And art itself may be defined as a single-minded attempt of a wisdom which looks for justice to the visible universe by bringing to light the truth, manifold and one, underlying its every aspect.

The sincere endeavor to accomplish that creative task, to go as far as that road as temperament. And in truth it must be, like painting, like music, like all art, the appeal of one temperament to all the other innumerable temperaments whose subtle and resistless power endows passing events with their true meaning, and creates the moral, the emotional atmosphere of time and place. Such an appeal to be effective must be an impression conveyed through the senses; and, in fact, it cannot be made in any other way, because temperament, whether individual or collective, is not amenable to persuasion. All art, therefore, appeals primarily to the senses, and the artistic aim when expressing itself in written words must also make its appeal through the senses if its high desire is to reach the secret spring of responsive emotions. It must strenuously aspire to the plasticity of sculpture, to the color of painting, and to the magic suggestiveness of music—which is the art of art. And it is only through complete, unswerving devotion to the perfect blending of form and substance; it is only through an unrelenting, never-discouraged care for the shape and ring of sentences that an approach can be made to plasticity, to color, and that the light of magic suggestiveness may be brought to play for an evanescent instant over the commonplace surface of words; of the old, old words, worn thin, defaced by ages of careless usage.

To arrest, for the space of a breath, the hands busy about the work of the earth, and compel men entranced by the sight of "faint goals to glance for a moment at the surrounding vision of form and color;
 of sunshine and shadows; to make them
 pause for a look, for a sigh, for a smile—
 such is the aim, difficult and evanescent,
 and reserved only for a very few to achieve.
 But sometimes, by the deservings and the fortune, even that task is accomplished.
 And when it is accomplished—behold—all the truth of life is there; a moment of vision, a sigh, a smile—and the return to an eternal rest.

MONKS' MOUND.

Where nature roams at will in solitude,
 And beauty wild-eyed sweeps the verdant
 hill, Cahokia's green mounds, man-built and
 rude,

The mysteries of a bygone race there
 spill,
 'Twas here the Indians once toiled and dwelt,
 And danced in savage glee in woodlands
 fair;

The awe of ancient legends here is felt,
 While ghosts of Romance fill upon th'
 air.

Here, long the Trappists' feet trod down the glade,
 Where like a blessing rose the monks'
 sweet prayer.

The monastery stood in peaceful shade,
 And here, swept from the heart, all sin
 or care;

But long the saintly monks sailed back to France,
 And neversore the Indian climbs the hill,
 Now, memories in the sunlight only dance.

While from the thicket wild birds sweetly
 trill,
 What history 'round this old forsaken place,
 Where once the wigwag fires at eve burst red!

Nature alone, through time, preserves its grace,
 While winds echo the names of Indian dead.

Well may proud Illinois protect the site,
 So sacred with the tales of bygone race;
 The seasons mark the spot in rapid flight,
 No lips to sing, no hand its name to trace.

RICHARD J. LINCOLN.

The MIRROR OF PUBLIC OPINION

SO IT HAS COME TO THIS

From the Detroit News.

OVER in Indiana where politics is as ingenious to the soil and a candidate for every hour, events are transpiring, reported that the Democratic party have been studying the state of the republican party and their conclusion is that the Republicans this year are divided into distinct groups. These are charged with as follows: Protestant Republicans, Colored Republicans, Jewish Republicans, German Republicans and German Catholics.

So it has come to this! Next thing you know the Republicans will be dividing into groups, and the Democrats will classify the Democrats maybe in this order: Native Born Democrats, Naturalized Democrats, North of Ireland Democrats, of Ireland Democrats and Melancholy Democrats. Or, eventually, they may be born: Blonde Democrats, Brunette Democrats, Bachelor Democrats, Bachelor Democrats and Albino Democrats.

Happily all the people have not been their sense of humor not intelligent. It is a way for honest and self-respecting to live together and work together, regardless of racial or creedal differences.
 It is the way of tolerance, and it is the good will. There is an old story about nearly everybody knows and has probably read which contains a tremendous statement, to-wit:

"He (the Creator) hath made all blood all nations of men."
 It should be profitable to study this statement at least occasionally and at time recall the nationality of the of the Christian religion.

THESE SPOONS.

From the Baltimore Evening Sun.

IT is an immeasurable relief to the Allen, friends and fellow-countrymen
 the American delegates to the convention of advertising writers in Washington, that they did not switch spoons Palace France, somehow driving out logs, has taken the trouble to issue official communique denying that there was a shortage of the golden spoons immediately after the reception of the visiting Americans. Evidently someone with a morbid sense of humor was able for the reported shortage of spoons. The story was published and, for all of the story's insinuation,
 the thing was so diabolically planned
 that it could only blush in speechless tion. What Americans will do with spoons is a matter of course. The seventh son of a seventh son would to guess. People who would do off the Washington Monument to inspire little Willie to greatness take spoons. In fact, spoons are known to disappear under mysterious circumstances. And it isn't any more price of a hotel room would be paid didn't have to cover shortages in supply. But in this instance an word of France that the spoons
 spoons have been accounted for.
 Already the country's ears are unblinking paleness. The follow-men of the American guests of France that they have ascertained such self-restraint. The American Clubs are to be congratulated.

MRS. COOLIDGE'S REPLY TO NOTE OF SYMPATHY

Appreciation of Condolence Death of Her Son is Expressed.

By the Associated Press.
 NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—A note which Mrs. Calvin Coolidge responds to Mrs. Oliver Roland Ingersoll Brooklyn in response to a note of sympathy at the time of death of Calvin Coolidge Jr., made public today by Mrs. In-

In giving the letter to the

 she believed she was fulfilling Coolidge's desire to send a per-sent their condolences to the Ingersoll, written from the White

"Thank you for your very letter of sympathy. It is one of the comparatively few letters aside from the many thousands made to read, and somehow, I feel that I am glad to have you to thank you myself. It grows regret to me that I can answer every letter, the little seem so cold in response to warm expressions of sympathy that is a physical impossibility cannot even read them all—satisfy—or try to myself—
 writing a very sincere appreciation to a few, hoping in some less way that it will spread make itself felt wherever a thought has been sent out to selves over and over to you? This

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—In a narrow bedroom at 29 West Third Street Mrs. Julie Reinhardt, 50-year-old actress and small advocate of woman suffrage, lay yesterday.

Known as Engstrom, the 52-year-old practical nurse who had been with her for a few days before her death, took her right hand, swollen with dropsy, and after she had been spoken to several times, the actress woman who joined Henry Wood Beecher in 1889 in the long fight for woman suffrage, said, "It's too late," she said. Arrangements Were Changed

THE wedding of Miss Dorothy Partridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Samuel Partridge of 5185 Cabanne avenue, and Lynn Hamilton Gamble, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gamble of 5736 McPherson avenue, took place yesterday afternoon in the chapel of the Fourth Presbyterian Church in Chicago.

A change in plans was announced exclusively in the Sunday Post-Dispatch. The bride was in Chicago visiting friends and shopping for her trousseau, when Mr. Gamble persuaded her to advance the date.

Rose Gamble of Chicago was his brother's best man, and the only attendant. About 40 Chicago relatives and friends filled the small chapel, and the family and a few friends were invited for dinner following at the Congress Hotel.

Her flowers were lilies of the valley, fashioned in the shoulder corsage so popular in Chicago. WRECKS AUTOMOBILE TO OUTWIT ROBBERSYouth Forces Machine Into Signboard After Two Men
Kidnap Him and Girl.John Ebert, 21 years old, of 4922
Genevieve avenue, and Miss Adella Grady, 19, of 4114 North Grand boulevard, were kidnapped by two men when sitting in Ebert's automobile in Chain of Rocks Park at 12:40 a. m. today, and were saved by Ebert's audacity in seizing the steering wheel and wrecking the car
after the men had driven them
north on Riverview Drive beyond
the city limits.Ebert had parked his roadster
on Carr Lane drive, near the spot where Robert L. Kimmel was killed and Miss Melba Hill seriously wounded by robbers on the night of Feb. 15 last.The two men, with revolvers, climbed into Ebert's machine. One of them took the wheel and started north, remarking to Ebert, "We'll tend to you when we get out of here." When they were approaching a filling station, Ebert seized the wheel and the machine crashed into a signboard, whereupon the two men jumped out and ran. The filling station manager drove Ebert and Miss Grady to the city, where cuts inflicted by the broken windshield were treated.Two men, answering the same description, held up Otto J.
Schweizer of 4205 W. Natural Bridge avenue, on Riverview Drive, near Watson road, three hours before.
They boarded his machine, drove him a mile north, where they put him out of the car after taking $52
in cash.MRS. O'NEIL LOSES COURT CONTEST OVER PROPERTYShe Charged Husband and Father,
a Former Banker, With Conspiracy to Defraud Her of Rights.
The petition of Mrs. Elise O'Neil, 6644 Waterman avenue,
charging her husband, Laurence
W. O'Neil, and his father, John F.
O'Neil, 51 Kingsbury place, formerly vice president of the Republic National Bank, with conspiracy to defraud her of marital rights to the Waterman avenue residence, and to oust her and their three children from it, was denied yesterday by Circuit Judge McElhinney at Clayton.Mrs. O'Neil charged that her husband, following their separation in 1921, deliberately defaulted interest payments on a deed of trust on their home, the result being that the property was auctioned off to a real estate agent, who subsequently brought an unlawful detainer suit against her. Her petition asked that the court order
the title to the property restored to Laurence O'Neil, and that the real estate agent be enjoined from trying to oust her.Judge McElhinney held there was no evidence of a conspiracy to defraud her, saying her husband's father was not legally bound to keep up payments on his son's home, nor was it improper for him to bid in the house through an agent at the auction, as charged.Mrs. O'Neil's divorce suit, in which she asks for $200 monthly alimony and $400 a month for the children, is now pending in the St.
Louis Court of Appeals.MAN DIES OF INJURIES IN FALLSuccumbs at Hospital After Trip-

has 142 extra coils—tying the cen-

uses these sensitive, elastic coils—an exclusive Simmons feature that gives the user so much extra com-

coil springs to tie the tops of the Ace uses these coils at tops andcenters both. That is one way you acts like the shock absorber on a

TEXAS LEAGUE SLUGGER TRYING TO BREAK RUTH'S HOME RUN RECORD

Fans Start Fund After Kraft Hits 46th of Season

Fort Worth Batter Has Been Knocking Them Over All the Southern Fences.

$10,000 PURSE PLANNED

Spectators Shower Him With Coin Every Time He Lifts One Over the Wall.

By John B. Foster.

(Copyright, 1924.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—If Clarence Kraft, first baseman of the Fort Worth club of the Texas League, succeeds in breaking the home-run record of Babe Ruth, to which he is entitled, he is likely to get $10,000. The Fort Worth club has projected the plan of raising the dough when Kraft hits his forty-sixth homer on Monday.

Kraft has been considered too slow for the major leagues, but he certainly has made his way into the Texas League. He has been playing the way, they play, and he has been hitting the ball on the nose, which was all to the same purpose and gave promise of doing a lot to help Fort Worth win the championship.

Began His Drive Early.

After the season started he got the home-run habit again. It came all in a heap. He could bat over any fence in the league. And they have some pretty distant fences out there.

Fort Worth is a progressive city. When somebody does something out there the citizens always take notice. So they are going to the undertaking of raising a purse full of shining ducats which will fall into Kraft's lap if he does it. Even if he does not, he has hit 59 homers or more. Let Kraft won't go unwarded for his efforts. The fans out in Fort Worth way have a pleasant little habit of showering coins on a home-run hitter. Kraft has been doing it. He has been collecting a little nest egg.

Of course the Babe is still in the home run fight and it is barely possible that he will raise his own mark this season and give Kraft something higher to shoot at. But just now it does not look as if he will.

Has the Hornsby Punch.

Kraft seems to have a pretty fair chance. He has a wicked right hand driver who punches the ball with as much force as Hornsby does. He also can swing free and when he swings free the ball sails high, wide and handsome.

Fort Worth fans have more than a record in mind in wishing to pay Kraft that $10,000. They are red-hot with yearning to beat Dallas. They figure that Dallas inspired the divided season which upset Texas baseball again when Fort Worth seemed on the way to the championship.

It looks as if Memphis could not be shaken out of the Southern Association this season and if Memphis and Fort Worth are the winners in their respective leagues they will play off the Dixie series. Fort Worth won it from Memphis in 1921 and it was largely due to the hitting of Kraft and Combs.

If Kraft gets his $10,000 he will be the first batter in history to collect such a sum directly from the fans. Ruth gets several times that amount—and, of course, he gets it indirectly from the fans—but the fans have not shoved him any $10,000 in a jump. Not yet.

JOE AND ASBESTOS—This Is No Day to Worry. They've Got a Tip On "Bother"

By Ken Kling

WRAY'S COLUMN

The Real Reason?

THE real reason why Jack Dempsey will not defend his title in a battle this summer or fall, is with us in St. Louis today on Display at a local picture house. It is the first number of his aerial film, which will run longer and oftener than Bill Brynner and we, trust, with more success.

It is stated on good authority—that is to say the oft-appealed-to "man who is in a position to know"—that Dempsey's film contract carries a clause prohibiting him from engaging in any hazardous bout this year. Dempsey is still at work for the film company turning out future numbers of the "Fight and Win" stories.

Motion picture fighting is just as remunerative, and a lot safer than ring battling.

Dempsey Not Afraid.

NOT that Dempsey would object to fighting. He is one of those artists "born to the manner," as concerns ring affairs. Fighting is in his blood. HE LIKES IT. He can give and he can take. He has pride in his craft, and if he had his way, he would not need any $500,000 guarantees to lure him into the ring.

An "I can lick you" challenge from any old heavyweight would make him move like a red flag moves a bull.

Despite the demands of his manager, whose shylocking all but cost Dempsey his popularity, Dempsey himself is not money mad; not to the extent found in the Pampas Bull, who can only be stirred to ring efforts by the profit there is in it.

Fights Better When Stung.

DEMPSEY's brother gave the clue to Jack at Saratoga last year. Critics were wondering if Dempsey could "take" it, as he had never been punished severely in his title fights.

"Take it!" exclaimed Brother John. "Say, I saw that boy fight before anyone ever heard of him. Why, he doesn't begin to fight until he's knocked down."

"I've seen him on the floor several times in impromptu scraps, and, say, he comes up faster and considerably more poisonous than when he went down. Look out for that boy when he's stung."

And a few days later Dempsey justified the statement against Firpo.

Doesn't Need Much.

THE word is going abroad that Willis isn't good enough to knock out Luis Firpo. How good does Willis have to be to beat Angel?

From what we saw of Angel in two fights—against Willard and Dempsey—Willis will not have to be so much, to take care of Firpo, despite that gentleman's size. Discounting all the tales about Firpo's table indulgence and lack of condition and granting that he shows up "in the pink" when he faces the Brown panther, it looks like chocolate and gravy for the chocolate party.

Firpo has beaten no man worthy of being considered in Willis' class. There were whiskey-burned Bill Brennan, grass-jawed Jack McAuliffe and venerable Jess Willard—out of the game four years and never much when he was in it. These are the cream of the hags and eggs that Willis has snuffed out. Not a man of them could he stand before Willis two rounds; not a man of them was capable of doing Luis serious damage, because of impaired power or original lack of it.

Willard, worn out, the rind of a cheese, won eight rounds before Firpo, frightened and pitifully helpless to box or fight. One swipe from Dempsey's glove would have put Willard out of his misery. But Luis needed eight rounds.

Willis Has the Goods.

AND this is the man Willis should be afraid of. Willis, who knows how to box, how to punch and how to trick and feint and fool; Willis, who can inflict outright and who is dangerous at all angles of the game.

Come again with another guess, Bo!

If Willis is beaten by Firpo, the Denmark of Hamlet's day would smell like a rose garden, by comparison.

The mark given in the above dispatch would be a world record. The previous record, also held by Weismuller, was 28.3 seconds, established at Alameda, Cal., in July, 1922.

It also was announced that Clinton Blume, right-hand pitcher, formerly of the Giants, has been released to Memphis.

Miss Willis Not Flat-Footed; Is Faster Than Ever, Camp Asserts

Practice of Striding, Rather Than Springing, in Covering Court, Makes Her Appear Slow by Comparison With Mlle. Lenglen, Critic Admits.

By Walter Camp.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Miss Helen Willis' play in the women's national singles is still being discussed by tennis enthusiasts. The young champion, in the writer's opinion, is faster and more convincing than when she went abroad.

She still lacks sufficient strength in the body muscles not to feel the striding back and forth across the court in a hard rally. The general comment on this has been—and was following her match with Miss Browne—that she is flat-footed.

This is unfair. She can and does rise upon her toes and has all the power in the world in the muscles of her lower legs which enables her to play as much as she likes on the balls of her feet. The trouble is not slowness of foot.

It might better be declared in comparison with Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, an striding across the court rather than springing from point to point. The French girl when

CARDINALS WILL PLAY FIRST 1925 TRAINING CONTEST ON FEB. 27

Special to the Post-Dispatch. STOCKTON, Cal., Aug. 19.—Before departing for home, Manager Branch Rickey of the Cardinals, after arranging for his team to train here next spring, announced that the nine would assemble here in time to permit the playing of exhibition games on Feb. 27 and 28. Rickey also arranged exhibition clashes with the San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento clubs of the Pacific Coast League. Dates for the contests have not been announced.

Plans for doubling the size of the local club house are now going on and when the St. Louis Nationals arrive here next February there will be lockers to take care of at least 50 athletes. Rickey asserted that his squad would include at least 10 players and possibly more.

Rickey expressed himself as well pleased with the local park. Many Pacific Coast League clashes have been played on the grounds in which the Cardinals will do their training for the 1925 National League campaign.

WAR VETERANS' BODY PROTESTS RULE AGAINST MIXED BOUTS IN ONTARIO

By the Associated Press. OTTAWA, Aug. 19.—A recent ruling by the Ontario Athletic Commission which prevents white and negro boxers from being matched and which caused local promoters to call off a bout between Fred Snell, Toronto light heavyweight, and Denis Grichelow, Ottawa negro, has evoked a protest from the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association, on behalf of Grichelow, who is a former service man.

In a telegram sent yesterday to J. P. Fitzgerald, secretary of the Ontario Boxing Commission, F. G. Foster, president of the local war veterans, protested against the ruling, pointing out that Grichelow had a good war record and a clean sporting record.

"There was no color line for active service and there should be none in sport," the telegram said.

TILDEN PICKS WINNER

Singles Champion and B. I. C. Norton on Teams Not Seeded in Draw.

By Lawrence Perry.

(Copyright, 1924.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—It is evident, considering the national doubles championship tournament now in progress at Longwood, Mass., that our crack players are still subordinating this spectacular department of lawn tennis.
Players continue to form partnerships on the basis of friendship or some other consideration unrelated to the project of forming the best teams of which American tennis is capable.
Tilden, for instance, elects to play with his youthful prodigy, Sandy Wiener, which is all right so far as the champion's personal desires are concerned, but at the same time not tending to bring out the highest expression of American doubles play.

It is a rather significant fact that teams containing such men as Tilden and B. I. C. Norton, who is paired with Wray Browne of St. Louis, were not among the teams seeded in the draw. The whole situation is a mess of individual performances rather than an attempt to develop a worth-while school of doubles play.
In the mixed doubles, which are also being decided at Longwood, we see a more favorable arrangement. Tilden being paired with Mrs. Mallory and Miss Williams teamed with Vincent Richards. But Mrs. G. U. Wightman, perhaps our best doubles strategist, man or woman, is paired with Jean Borotra, the French player, and no one need be sure that this combination will not

Epinard Needs But Little Work to Fit
Him for Big Tests

By the Associated Press.
SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Epinard, French thoroughbred, will need but little more actual track work to fit him for his three big tests against the best runners on the American turf, in the opinion of Everett Haynes, Epinard's jockey.

Epinard took it easy yesterday but he will probably step along five furlongs today. The jockey does not want to bring the horse along too fast, preferring that he reach his peak when he meets the field entered at Belmont, Aqueduct and Latonia.

The French horse will be shipped from Saratoga to Belmont Park on Aug. 26 in company with Ordinance and Larkin of the Belmont Stable.

It was announced yesterday that the three special races will be covered by radio broadcasting stations.
give all other mixed doubles teams a mighty hard fight.
Tilden and Mrs. Mallory have won the mixed doubles twice and are keen for a third title.
The interesting phase of these mixed doubles matches is the part the women partners are compelled to play in the arrangement. Gallantry appears neither in the service nor in any of the strokes which the men employ and indeed it would seem the women mightily were there any suggestion they were being favored.

Last Night's Fights

COLUMBUS, O.—Gene Tunney, American light heavyweight champion, won a technical knockout over Joe Lohman of Toledo, when Referee Matt Hinkle stopped the bout in the eighth round. Lohman was floored four times in the last three rounds, taking the count of nine just as the seventh ended. The bout was to have gone 12 rounds.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, won a newspaper decision over Amos "Kid" Carlin of Jeanette, in 15 rounds. Carlin was floored in the seventh.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn.—W. L. (Young) Strickling, the Georgia school boy boxer, scored a knockout over Jack Stone, New York light heavyweight, in the fourth of a scheduled eight-round bout. Strickling punished his opponent almost at will. The referee stopped the fight with Stone helpless against the ropes under a rain of blows from the Georgia "flash."

CINCINNATI, O.—Low Tiedler, Philadelphia lightweight, earned a newspaper decision over E. O. Mars of Cincinnati in a 10-round bout at Redland Field. Mars was knocked down in the fourth round, and was being counted out when the bell saved him.

CLEVELAND, O.—Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., and Archie Walker, New York, boxed 30 rounds to a draw, according to newspaper men at the stage.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Six members of the British polo team, which is to compete with the American four for the international cup at the Meadowbrook Club, Westbury, Long Island, on Sept. 4, 10 and 15, arrived on the Minnawaska yesterday.

The players were accompanied by Col. E. D. Miller, a member of the selection committee, who was in charge of the trip. Lord Wimborne, chairman of the selection committee, will take charge upon his arrival.

The following tentative lineup was announced by Col. Miller: No. 1, Lieutenant-Colonel T. P. Melville, an eight-goal man, who has been in this country for several weeks; No. 2, Maj. G. Phillips Hornby, eight-goal; No. 3, Maj. J. H. Hurndall, captain, nine-goal; Back, Lewis, Lacey, 10-goals; substitutes, Majors V. M. Lockett, T. W. Kirkwood and J. B. Atkinson, all rated at eight goals.

When asked what he thought of the team's chances, Col. Miller replied: "It is a real British team, but the odds are against us."

The British players with the exception of Maj. Hornby and Maj. Kirkwood, expect to remain here after the international competition to play with various American teams. The visitors will start their practice at Port Washington on Saturday.

Villa Is Winner
Over Kid Carlin

Flyweight Champion Is Given Hard Tussle by Southerner in 15 Rounds.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Aug. 19.—Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion, won a 15-round decision of Amos "Kid" Carlin of Jeanette, in the opinion of newspapermen at the ringside. The champion, however, knew he had been in a fight and fired towards the end, when Carlin sent over some telling blows. Villa weighed 114 and Carlin 115½ pounds.

In the first round Carlin caught Villa off balance and staggered him with a right to the jaw. Villa outboxed Carlin in the second, third and fourth, but Carlin evened the fifth with body blows. Villa began a vicious attack in the sixth and in the seventh dropped Carlin to the canvas with a right hook to the jaw. Carlin was up before the referee started to count and beat Villa all about the ring in the eighth round.

Villa began another vicious body attack in the ninth and slowed Carlin. Carlin won the eleventh by a shade, held Villa even in the thirteenth. Villa tried for a knockout in the last two rounds.

Sullivan Retains
His Junior Title

New York Fighter Gains Decision Over Pepper Martin in 15 Rounds.

By Bert Igoe,
Of the New York World Sport Staff.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Steve (Kid) Sullivan held the 130-pound belt against the dashing assault of "Pepper" Martin at the Queensboro Stadium, last night, and when 15 grilling rounds had been tolled off, the judges ruled that hard-hitting Sullivan had retained the title, won from Johnny Dundee.

A fine little champion, Sullivan, clean-cut and true-hitting. He met the old enemy with the certain savagery of a panther. It matters not what Martin had in the way of hooks, jabs and desperate swings to the jaw. Sullivan always was wading in, onward to victory, all of which meant the retention of his title.

Sullivan has added dignity and more than passing importance to this title that has been more or less of a joke up to now. He carried the fight right into the challenger's teeth with never a backward step. To me Sullivan's unflinching forward attack was one of the finest bits of fighting I've seen in years.

Martin weakened under punishment and the pace. It was all indigo for "Pepper" at times, but with his usual comeback propensities he rallied when least expected. Tommy Milton was awarded the decision over Sammy Cohen in the semifinal of eight rounds.

In the opening bout of four rounds, Mike Sainick was outpointed by Al Scorda. Buck Joseph and Billy Miller went six rounds to a draw. Whiffle Collier outpointed Jimmy Mars in eight.

There were 10,123 persons there and $25,727 came into the coffers.

14-YEAR-OLD PACER IS EASY WINNER IN RACE

By the Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 19.—Coming back after his winning heat of Saturday, when rain caused a halt to the Grand Circuit program, Single G. W. B. Barfoot's 14-year-old world's champion pacer, showed his superiority by defeating three of the best pacers in training here yesterday. Ed Allen, the Indian, apollo reinsman, took Single G. into the lead at the start and he was never headed, pacing the quarter in 23 4-5 seconds, the mile in 1:50 2-5, three-quarters in 1:10 4-5, and the mile in 2:01 4-5.

Merriman, Thomas W. and was overtaken by him halfway down the home stretch. With Single G. ruled out, the race had little trouble taking the consolation mile.
Only once had Single G. lost a race on this track in nine years. He has appeared here. That year when it is alleged he gives a drug the night before a race.

ALDERMEN TO GET SUBWAY IDEAS ON TOUR OF 5 CITIES

Special Committee, headed by Wimer, to Depose Sept. 1 on Rapid Transit Inquiry.

$25,000 MAY BE ASKED FOR SURVEY

Ordinance for $50,000, Bond Issue for Construction of Downtown System Also Planned.

A special committee of aldermen, headed by President Wimer, and accompanied by President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service and Commerce, consulting engineer for the city, will leave Sept. 1 on a tour of five cities to gain ideas for a rapid transit system for St. Louis, with consideration especially of a subway plan.

Smith expects to recommend upon the reconvening of the board Sept. 26, an ordinance appropriating about $25,000 for a survey, conditions here applicable to a subway problem, and another ordinance for a $50,000 bond issue for construction of a downtown subway system. The arrangement to be proposed probably will include an advance agreement with the United Railways for use of its system.

Would Be Subject to Vote. Such a bond issue would be subject to popular vote. A constitutional limitation on issuance of municipal bonds would not apply to this issue because, like the $2,000,000 waterworks item in the 1922 bond issue, it would be a public utility, to be financed from the earnings of that utility. Smith has figured that the cost to the city of a subway bond issue would be about 5 per cent of the principal. He points out that the city borrows money at about 4½ per cent, a low rate, but that the city could retire the bonds in 10 years at a cost of about 1 per cent annually, this taking the place of a depreciation charge. A private company financing a subway probably would have to pay 8 per cent for money, but would have to charge 2 per cent for depreciation, he said.

Certain Economies in Plan. Smith predicted that even the fare in a subway system would be no higher than that for surface cars, the present fare being 7 cents, though at first the subway fare might be a little higher. There would be certain economies in operating underground; no stoppage by the company, no accidents to pay for, faster operation, which means less wage trip; less wear and tear on equipment and less power used because of the fewer stops underground. These economies would offset the annual interest charges, but not be apparent at first.

Consideration should be given to the plan for a subway system in St. Louis, where car riders (through transit system), owners of property along the subway routes, the city would share the cost of the underground tubes in a way. The riders, said the engineer, "benefit from the subway by rapid transportation, property owners benefit by rising values, and, where the subway stations, by convenience of people; the whole city benefits by the general expedient movement."

Smith is not prepared to suggest tentative locations for the subway tubes, but thinks the system should be so arranged that all face car lines downtown would be removed, which would help the general problem of traffic congestion. Incidentally, faster car lines probably would decrease the number of machines driven downtown. Smith thinks that when it comes to extend the rapid-transit system farther the extension should be by ways, not by elevated lines.

Early Action Is Needed. "We must do something about the transit problem within the next few years," he said. "If we don't, downtown property will decline in value to an extent equal to the cost of the subway. It was announced Sunday that a railroad was to move its offices to a new building on Grand boulevard. It doesn't modernize our traffic, there will be more of that kind of thing."

"If the coming inquiry does not undoubtedly it will, then the next step will be a survey to determine how many residents live in three or four track areas, what streets to run underground, and what city or State action would be needed. It is the duty of the city to be fully to take bonds when the survey, which presumably would be made in the United States, shows that the city should have a subway like the Cleveland system, which has been municipally supervised and

Special Committee, Headed by Wimer, to Depart Sept. 1 on Rapid Transit Inquiry.

A constitutional limitation on issuance of municipal bonds would not apply to this issue because, like the $12,000,000 waterworks issue, it would be a special issue. It would be for public utility, to be financed from the earnings of that utility.

He pointed out that the city borrows money at about 4 per cent, a low rate, and that the city could retire the bonds in 10 years at a cost of about 4 1/2 per cent annually, this taking the place of a depreciation charge. A private company financing the subway probably would have to pay 1 per cent for money and would have to charge 2 per cent for depreciation, he said.

Certain Economies in Plan. Smith predicted that eventually the fare in a subway system would be no higher than that for the surface cars, the present fare being 1 cent, though at first the subway fare might be a little higher. These economies would offset the annual interest charge, but might not be apparent at first."

Consideration should be given, Smith thinks, to the plan proposed for a subway system in Detroit, whereby car riders (through the transit system), owners of property along the subway routes and the city would share the cost of the underground tubes in some way. The riders, said the consulting engineer, "benefit from a subway by rapid transportation; property owners benefit by stabilization of values, and, where there are many stations, by concentration of people; the whole city benefits by the general expedient of transportation."

Smith is not prepared to suggest tentative locations for the downtown tubes, but thinks the system should be arranged that all surface car lines downtown would be removed, which would help the general problem of traffic congestion. Incidentally, faster car service probably would decrease the number of machines driven downtown. Smith thinks that when the extension to extend the proposed rapid-transit system farther west, the extension should be by subway, but by elevated lines.

Early Action Is Needed. "We must do something about the transit problem within five years," the consulting engineer said. "If we don't, the downtown property will decline in value to an amount equal to the cost of downtown subways. It was announced Sunday that a railroad expects to move its offices to a new building on Grand boulevard. If we don't modernize our traffic system, there will be more of that decentralization."

On the coming inquiry decision, Smith undoubtedly will, that the next step will be a survey to determine how many routes; whether three or four track tubes; what streets to run under; the cost; and what city or state legislation would be needed. It would be necessary to vote bonds without a referendum, for the use of the subway, which presumably would be leased to the United Railways. I think St. Louis should have some one like the Cleveland plan of a municipally supervised car service.

JOPLIN POLICE CHIEF, HIDING IN PISTOL FIGHT; LOSES JOB

Mayor Learns That Officer Was Behind Barn While Detectives Were Attacking Bandit.

By the Associated Press.
JOPLIN, Mo., Aug. 18.—Chief of Police Verna P. Hine has been discharged by Mayor Taylor Snapp as an outgrowth of a pistol battle Saturday in which Roy Daugherty, notorious bandit, was shot and killed by city detectives. An investigation by the mayor yesterday disclosed that instead of assisting Chief of Detectives W. F. Gibson and Detectives Len V. Deason and Chief Hine behind a barn, Hine explained his action by declaring, according to the mayor, that he "lost nerve."

Gibson narrowly escaped death when a bullet clipped his hat. He nevertheless opened fire on Daugherty, three of his four shots taking effect. Detective Van Deason opened fire as the bandit turned, his bullet sending a bullet through his head. Hine was appointed Chief of Police today.

BLAZE IN LUMBER DRYING KILN CAUSES $28,000 LOSS

Flames at Auto Body Company Resulted in Loss of $28,000. Damage Covered by Insurance. A stubborn fire in a drying kiln of the Commercial Auto Body Co., 5401 Bulwer, avenue, resulted in a loss of $28,000 yesterday afternoon and caused damage estimated at $28,000, covered by insurance.

The first alarm, turned in at 2:45 p. m., was soon followed by a second. It was 5 p. m. before the fire was subdued, and then the lumber continued to smolder, with an occasional burst of flame.

Cause of the fire was not determined. The kiln was heated by steam coils, and had no electric wiring. Most of the lumber was timber-dry. This, and the difficulty in reaching the heart of the fire, endangered the adjacent building, one a millroom with a litter of shavings and sawdust.

A GENERAL'S KIND DEED

Hines Calls on Edwardsville Woman Whose Son Was Shot. Major-General J. L. Hines, who will succeed Gen. Pershing next month as Chief of Staff, yesterday called on Mrs. A. G. Tuxhorn, a mother that her son who was accidentally wounded in maneuvers at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich., would receive the best of attention.

The son, Albert Tuxhorn, of Edwardsville, was at the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Camp Custer when he was shot last week. His mother, Mrs. A. G. Tuxhorn, hurried to the camp yesterday when Gen. Hines called before leaving for Washington after inspecting the camp. Young Tuxhorn was operated on last week at a Battle Creek hospital and is recovering.

DOG WAITS FOR DEAD MISTRESS

Has Been in Front Yard Four Weeks Meets Every Automobile. Special to the Post-Dispatch. PARIS, Ill., Aug. 18.—A story of animal devotion has been reported from the late home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Honn, west of this city. Mrs. Honn had a shepherd dog from infancy and it was devoted to his mistress. The Honns were killed four weeks ago when their automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania train.

The dog refused to be taken to a new home. He lies near the front door of the house and when an automobile turns into the farm road he runs to the gate and stands expectantly until it passes on. Then he returns to his resting place. He rejects the friendly advances of neighbors and eats little.

at cost provided in the United States reorganization." Mayor Kiel, who is at the State Fair in Sedalia today, has expressed himself publicly as favoring a downtown subway system. His recent visit to London gave him further insight into traffic problems and the value of subways.

The aldermanic transit investigating committee, which will be gone more than two weeks, expects to visit Philadelphia, New York, Boston, Detroit and Chicago.

MRS. M'MULLIN FREED OF KILLING HUSBAND

Grand Jury Dismisses Charge After She Describes Struggle Before His Death.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—To the long list of women who have been exonerated of the charge of killing their husbands there was added yesterday the name of Mrs. Stewart N. McMullin, widow of the former convict and prohibition agent who died from a knife attack Aug. 9, in his apartment.

After hearing Mrs. McMullin testify yesterday under a waiver of immunity, the grand jury voted to dismiss the charge of homicide under which she was committed following the fatal quarrel.

It is understood that the story the widow told the grand jurors is the same one she told Assistant District Attorney Jones last Wednesday, when she said her husband had been stabbed accidentally with a knife he was trying to use on her.

Although the knife entered McMullin's back directly behind the heart, the widow's contention is that he held it in his right hand and that she had just succeeded in forcing his right hand behind his back when they crashed against the kitchen wall.

After coming from the grand jury room, Mrs. McMullin made a statement to reporters in which she said she loved her husband and was sorry he was killed; but further remarked: "I am happy to be a free woman again, and my only desire is to get back to my two children on my farm in Louisiana."

INTEREST IN BIBLE CONFERENCE STIMULATED BY CRITICISM

Large Attendance Expected at Winona Lake as Result of Attacks on Theological Education. Correspondence of the Associated Press. WINONA LAKE, Ind., Aug. 18.—Attacks made upon the efficiency of theological education in the United States are expected to stimulate unusual interest in the thirty-third annual Bible conference to be held here Aug. 22 to 31. The conference has had an enlarged attendance each year for several years, but its leaders predict that as a result of the recent criticism of religious educational work, notably by the Institute for Social and Religious Research, there will be an extraordinary attendance this season.

The conference program will deal with such subjects as Bible interpretation, expository preaching, pulpit and parish problems and missionary work. Noted speakers have been engaged.

UTILITIES BOARD MAKES BIG CUT IN PROPOSED MINE PRICE

West Missouri Company Had Offered Its President $87,500 More Than Commission Approves.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 18.—The West Missouri Power Co. today was authorized by the Public Service Commission to purchase the Nevada (Mo.) property of the Fort Scott & Nevada Light, Heat and Power Co. for $845,000, and to purchase a coal mine at Clinton, Mo., for $111,500. The commission also authorized the company to issue $220,500 in 7 per cent preferred stock and $170,000 in 4 1/2 per cent first mortgage bonds, to finance the consolidation.

In fixing the purchase price of the coal mine at $111,500, the commission cut almost in half the price at which the West Missouri Power Co. proposed to purchase the mine from its own president, L. K. Green, Green and his four children operated the mine as a partnership, supplying coal to the West Missouri Power Co., of which Green is president. Testimony at hearings before the commission was to the effect that Green had paid $111,500 for the land and mining equipment, but the price at which it was to have been purchased from him was $209,000. Members of the commission held the latter price would be an excessive capitalization charge to the public, when a rate-making has been established and set at $111,500.

The commission authorized a capitalization of $600,000 for the Nevada utility properties. This is a reduction of $450,000 from the present total of $1,050,000 in stocks and bonds of the Fort Scott & Nevada company now outstanding. The latter company will be dissolved when the purchase has been completed.

The Banner Sign Co., 1119 Pine street, has made and erected in front of the Orpheum Theater a sign announcing the Police Concert. Tickets for the affair were dissolved by Weldon, Williams & Lick, printers, of Fort Smith, Ark.

FIGHT THREAT GETS ARMS FOR CANTON VOLUNTEERS

Dr. Sun Yat Sen Releases Consignment Demanded by Chinese Fascist Organization. By the Associated Press. PEKING, Aug. 18.—Threats of an armed conflict between the volunteer corps of Canton and the forces of Dr. Sun Yat Sen were withdrawn today when Dr. Sun Yat Sen released a large consignment of arms, aboard the Norwegian steamer Hay, to the volunteer corps known as the fascists of China. The volunteers carried their arms, to diplomatic channels, asserting they had legitimate permission to importations.

The merchant volunteers of Canton are said to control 60,000 men. They have a membership of 200,000. The organization is the outgrowth of political turmoil in South China.

Bogey Man Expense at $749.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 18.—Bernard P. Bogey, defeated candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress from the Eleventh (St. Louis) District, today filed an expense account of $749 for his campaign, and the bulk of Bogey's disbursements were to individuals or ward organizations.

Purses Negro Pickpocket. Edward Martin, 2645 Washington boulevard, felt a hand in his hip pocket as he was about to board a street car at Washington and Jefferson avenues, yesterday. He grabbed the hand and a negro jerked away and fled. Martin pursued, but the negro outran him, taking his purse, containing $3.50.

Counterfeiting Quilt Found. The plates were new and apparently had not been used.

POLICE BAND CONCERT TICKETS PUT ON SALE

Orpheum Theater Program Will Be for Free Ice for Babies' Milk Fund.

Tickets for the concert to be given next Saturday evening at the Orpheum Theater by the St. Louis Police Band for the benefit of the Post-Dispatch Free Ice for Babies' Milk Fund were placed on sale today at the Orpheum Theater box office at the regular theater prices. The entire proceeds of the entertainment will be donated to the fund for the babies, as all performers are giving their services without charge and the use of the theater and all attaches has been donated, through the courtesy of E. J. Sullivan, St. Louis representative for the Orpheum Circuit.

This is the fourth consecutive year that the Orpheum Theater has opened their regular season with a benefit show for the Post-Dispatch Ice Fund, and each year the money earned by the benefit has added substantially to the fund. Judging from the tickets already sold for Saturday evening's show, this year will be no exception.

Harry Graham, branch manager of the Pathe Exchange, 3208 Lindell boulevard, has notified the directors of the concert that the Pathe Exchange will furnish an opening and closing act for the performance, which is to be given in the usual Orpheum style.

The Banner Sign Co., 1119 Pine street, has made and erected in front of the Orpheum Theater a sign announcing the Police Concert. Tickets for the affair were dissolved by Weldon, Williams & Lick, printers, of Fort Smith, Ark.

A WOLF IN FACT AND THEORY

Owner Who Thought He Could Tame Animal Can't Find Buyer. A timber wolf would make an unusual pet if a fellow could tame it. So Mike Tyson of 2421 Cass avenue thought when he saw 25 of them offered for sale Friday at Hoopes, Ill.

Now he's trying to get rid of the beast. It cost him his last $25. He walked from Hoopes to Chicago to Champagn. It bit him frequently. Nobody wants it. The zoo might, but pay for it?—No. They're too common. But Mike still maintains it would make a nice pet—if it could be tamed.

EX-CONVICT, WANTED IN TENNESSEE, TAKEN HERE

Burglary and Larceny Charges Against John Winters, 47, at Nashville. John Winters, 47 years old, three-time ex-convict by his own admission, was arrested by detectives yesterday while working as a laborer on a house being erected in Moorland, and is being held for authorities at Nashville, Tenn., where charges of burglary and larceny are pending.

His arrest was requested in January, but he was not located until several days ago when he was reported to police by an East St. Louis man who had trouble with Winters because of the man's wife. Winters recently has been living in a houseboat on the East Side. He denied that he committed burglary and larceny and said he would not return without requiring papers. His three prison terms resulted, he said, from his killing of Tom Wooten, his partner in a store in Clarksville, Tenn., in 1919. He pleaded insanity, but was sentenced to five years and served a little more than four. Then he started to revenge himself on the jurors, destroying their buggies and other property and driving off their teams. Two of the jurors' homes were burned. He denies having burned them, but was sentenced to 15 years for arson and had served six years when paroled. He became a mountaineer moonshiner, but was again arrested in 1925 and sentenced to 99 years for arson. Three years later he was paroled and came to St. Louis, in 1923, working here as a laborer since.

MOORS WAGE GUERRILLA WAR ON BOTH SPANISH FRONTS

Losses Reported in Fighting at Wladiau and Afran—Chentafas Still Besieged. By the Associated Press. MADRID, Aug. 18.—Guerrilla warfare is being carried out by the rebellious Moroccan tribesmen on both the eastern and western fronts of the Spanish zone, according to an official statement given out today. Hand-to-hand fighting with heavy losses on both sides, is reported at Wladiau. The Spanish losses are given as four officers and 15 soldiers killed, and two officers and 50 men wounded. The rebel casualties are said to be considerable.

"A Spanish column operating on the left," says the statement, "has reached Afran and cleared the surrounding villages of rebels, meeting only with slight enemy fire. The enemy is believed to have suffered heavily, as 72 bodies were found at the foot of Moravite hill."

"Another column, which escorted a convoy to reinforce Tazza, continued to march to Chentafas, which is still besieged by the enemy in great numbers."

REALTY MAN'S SON TURNED OVER TO JUVENILE COURT

Orean McCrady, 14, Identified by Woman as Youth Who Obtained $300 Check in Deal. Orean McCrady, 14 years old, son of Hayes McCrady, president of the McCrady & Obeymeyer Realty Co., 5175 Easton avenue, was turned over to juvenile court authorities yesterday after he had been identified by Mrs. Amelia Banholzer, 3444 Wells avenue, as the "R. L. Crawford" who obtained a check for $300 earnest money from her in June for the purchase of a piece of real estate she later found did not belong to the person represented as owner.

A teller at the United States Bank of St. Louis identified young McCrady as having cashed the check after identifying it with the name of the supposed owner. The result being that the check was later turned over to his father, to appear when wanted, denied any knowledge of the transaction.

The father said Mrs. Banholzer at a statement by Col. Seliger, who at the time the war began, was chief of the press bureau of the Vienna War Office in the Vienna "Tribune."

Col. Seliger says that a telephone message to the press bureau reported that Francis Joseph had signed the war declaration, but that he had been persuaded in doing so only after great difficulty. The actual signing did not take place, asserts the writer, until Count Berchtold, Austrian Foreign Minister, showed the Emperor a telegram which stated that Serbians had raided the Bosnian frontier, and in the fighting some 400 soldiers had been killed. Col. Seliger quotes the late Emperor as saying: "If so much blood has already been spilled, then war is unavoidable."

It was the next day, says the writer, that Count Kinisky informed the press bureau of the Vienna War Office that Francis Joseph, who actually there had been only four casualties in the fighting along the Bosnian frontier, who forged the telegram is not stated.

SAYS FORGED TELEGRAM PRECIPITATED WORLD WAR

Former Austrian Official Denies Fake Message Led to Declaration Against Serbia. By the Associated Press. VIENNA, Aug. 18.—It was a forged telegram that induced Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria-Hungary, to declare war against Serbia, in July, 1914, according to a statement by Col. Seliger, who at the time the war began, was chief of the press bureau of the Vienna War Office in the Vienna "Tribune."

ACCIDENT VERDICT IN CASE OF BANK CLERK KILLED BY TRAIN

Crossing Walkman Testifies at Inquest Into Death of Auto Driver. A coroner's verdict of accident was returned today in the case of A. William Heints, 31 years old, 5447 Queens avenue, railroad tinner at Bowman's Bank, who was killed Sunday night when Wabash passenger train No. 12, bound for Chicago, struck his touring car at Marcus avenue and the Terminal Belt line.

Samuel Keller, 5114 McKinnon avenue, the crossing walkman testified he was lowering the gates for the train's approach when Heints drove up from the south. The north gate lowered more speedily than the south one, the result being that Heints was stopped on the track by the north gate. He backed the machine off the track, up an incline, Keller testified. Then the machine slowly rolled back onto the tracks, as though the brakes had failed to hold on the grade.

Sunday was the first day of vacation for Heints. He resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Heints. He was alone in the car at the time of the accident.

WEALTHY FARMER GIVEN LIFE TERM FOR KILLING HIS WIFE

Missouri Pleads Guilty of Murder Committed With Shotgun. Loaded With Ball Bearings. By the Associated Press. HOUSTON, Mo., Aug. 18.—Fred L. Funkey, 55 years old, wealthy farmer, yesterday pleaded guilty in the Texas County Circuit Court, to a charge of first degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting of his wife, at the family home near Arroll, Texas County, July 22, last, and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the State penitentiary.

Funkey was alleged to have shot his wife with a shotgun loaded with ball bearings taken from an automobile. Fred Funkey Jr., his son, who ran to aid his mother was badly hurt with a large knife in his father's hand; 1013, 17-year-old daughter beat her father over the head with a club, and the two found him to a gas.

Funkey escaped into the woods, where he was later captured by a posse.

Do ants camp in your food closet?

THE ant nuisance is soon ended by spraying with FLIT. Flit spray penetrates cracks and crevices where ants, roaches and bedbugs breed, destroying the insects, their eggs and larvae.

Destroys All Insects

Flit clears the house in a few minutes of mosquitoes and disease-bearing flies. It is clean, easy to use and harmless.

Spraying Flit on garments kills moths. It destroys their eggs and the tiny worms called larvae which eat holes. Exhaustive tests showed that Flit did not stain or injure the most delicate fabrics.

Flit is sold to fur storage plants, etc., in bulk quantities.

Windows, bath tubs and tile will gleam if sprayed with Flit and polished with a dry cloth.

A Scientific General Insecticide

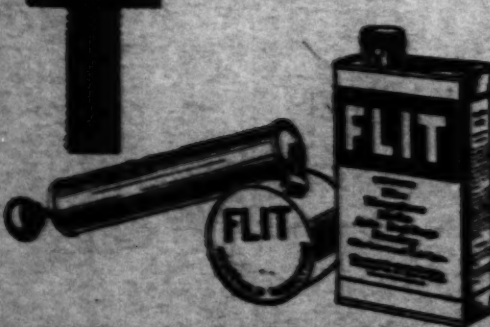

More than seventy formulas were tested before the final selection was made. Flit is a 100% effective insecticide containing no inactive (inert) ingredients.

Try Flit in your home. At all drug stores

REPORTS SOME OF FARMERS IN STATE FOR LA FOLLETTE

Director of Associated Industries Also Says Union Labor Probably Is Unit for the Ticket.

MAY ADD VOTES FOR COMPENSATION BILL

Manufacturers Warned Measure "Will Fit Neatly With the Radical La Follette Program."

There is some sentiment for the La Follette-Wheeler Independent Progressive presidential ticket among farmers in virtually every county in Missouri, and union labor will probably be a unit in support of the ticket, field agents of the Associated Industries of Missouri have reported. Elmer Donnell, managing director, says in a circular to the membership, made public today.

The Associated Industries is a organization of manufacturers having members in all parts of the State. The reference to the La Follette-Wheeler strength is in the nature of a warning. Donnell declares the strength of the Progressive movement may increase the vote for the workmen's compensation bill to be submitted to vote in November. The Associated Industries is opposing this bill.

The Donnell circular has the following to say regarding the La Follette campaign:

"Outstate newspapers are carrying under a St. Louis date line, information that campaigners for the La Follette-Wheeler ticket will this week begin a tour of the State motor caravan. The workers will be holding meetings and perfect organizations in each town.

"Contributions from $1 up are being solicited at each meeting. Orville E. Jennings, labor leader, treasurer of the campaign organization, says that $248 was collected at a mass meeting at Springfield last week. A large sum was collected at the meeting in St. Louis, addressed by La Follette's son. According to Jennings, contributions of $250 and $300 are being received from labor unions over the State.

The work is being done under the direction of R. T. Wood, president of the Missouri State Federation of Labor, who is the recognized head of the La Follette campaign in Missouri.

"Sentiment Among Farmers." "Information gathered by field men of the Associated Industries indicates that there is some La Follette sentiment among the farmers in practically every county in the State. To this must be added the fact that union labor will probably be a unit in his support. This is particularly true of railroad employees.

"The workmen's compensation bill, drawn by Wood and his fellow unionists, will fit neatly with the radical La Follette program, and the coupling of the two will undoubtedly result in making many votes for the compensation issue, which it would not receive under ordinary conditions.

"Thus La Follette's candidacy may do incalculable harm if it results in the passage of this vicious measure.

The circular refers to the legislative program of the Missouri Women's Legislative Committee, which, as has been told, will seek amendment of child labor laws and factory inspection laws at the next Legislature. Referring to the proposed child-labor law amendments, which would increase from 18 to 14 years the minimum age at which minors may be employed to operate power-driven machinery, Donnell said:

"Proponents of measures such as these completely ignore the fact that almost without exception those miners who engage in factory operations do so not because they particularly enjoy the work, but because they must work in order to live."

"Frequenters of measures such as these completely ignore the fact that almost without exception those miners who engage in factory operations do so not because they particularly enjoy the work, but because they must work in order to live."

Donnell says there is a common mistake for all persons, not to do. You should use specially prepared for shampooing. Often the simplest preparation—one you can make yourself—such as a teaspoon of castile soap dissolved in a cup of hot water, is the best. Dandruff, dandruff and dirt are dissolved and easily removed and hair grows. Healthy, beautiful hair results.

You can get castile soap at practically any good drug store—Advertisement.

USE CANTHROX Shampoo AFTER THE SWIM

Shampoo is an essential tonic for the scalp, but it should not fall directly on the hair until the shampoo is gone. And in washing the hair you should be very careful about the shampooing preparation you use.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Prevent Curdling.
It is safer to put the salt into a custard after the milk has been scalded. It is likely to curdle the custard if put into the cold milk.

The Correct Garnish.
Slices of lemon are always nice to garnish fish. It is surprising how many people enjoy lemon juice on all kinds of fish and shell food.

Scaling Fish.
When your neighbor brings you some of his "catch" and you have to scale the fish, hold it under the running water the entire time, beginning at the tail and scraping towards the head. This will prevent the scales from scattering.

Kills Medicinal Odors.
If you wish to use a medicine bottle for another purpose and the odor still clings to it from its former contents, fill it half full of cold water and add one tablespoon of dry mustard. Shake thoroughly, let stand for half a day and rinse carefully in cold water.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

The Pool.
ON every leaf and blade of grass midsummer lays her spell, we hear her dancing footsteps pass through every sylvan dell. The little brook goes laughing on—or was it summer's voice? And with the pallid gleam of dawn a myriad birds rejoice. So bright and beautiful and gay, so varied and so sweet, so glowing in the flowers each day are fainting from the heat. Now slowly hum the honey-bees upon their fragrant rounds and gently through the waving trees the wind's soft music sounds. But over meadow, field and hill and over wood and plain the waves of heat come surging still in never-ending train. With weary steps the plowman goes, the farmer boy plods by, for ceaselessly the fierce heat flows beneath a turquoise sky. But far within a leafy glade where heavy shadows creep, half-hidden in the verdant shade a pool lies, locked in sleep. Dark depths that mirror like a glass the branches bending down, the butterflies and bees that pass the plinks of summer's gown; dark depths that in their being hold the glories of the sky, the shimmer of the sunset's gold, night's starry majesty. A secret pool, serene and bright, in this dim forest place, it mirrors all the day and night the summer's lovely face. And all the winds that stray this way grow swiftly fresh and cool; the breezes whisper all the day above the shining pool. Even such is love within a life, a pool that shimmers there hidden away from every strife to mirror all things fair.

SANDWICH TASTIES.
Spread slices of thinly buttered bread with peanut butter then with orange marmalade and cut into finger lengths. These sandwiches are also very delicious toasted before being cut.

SAYINGS OF MRS. SOLOMON

By HELEN ROWLAND

THE SAVING VICE.
MY Daughter, a man parteth first with his illusions, then with his top-hair, then with his teeth—and last, with his pet follies. Yet a woman may lose all of these, but not until she parteth with life itself doth she part with her VANITY!
For a man's vanity is as a rock which is embedded in his soul, but a woman's vanity is as the green bay tree, which flourisheth and increaseth with the years.
And lo, though her childhood be forgotten and her girlhood long past, still doth she delight to be called "girlie" and "cutie" and to be "babied" by him she loveth.
Though she hath parted with her waistline and her sylph-like slenderness hath become as the mountain range, still doth she answer to "little one" without blushing, and think of herself as a perfect thirty-six.
Though her hair turneth from gold to silver and from silver back to Titian, still doth she delight to shake it out before the looking glass, saying, "Yea, I am a perfect blonde."
Though her sight becometh tricky and she taketh to goggles in secret, still doth she rejoice and flush with pleasure when a man remarketh on "the radiance of her eyes."
Though her face resemble last year's rose or a valued antique, still doth she totter upon French-heeled slippers and hope secretly that the stranger will observe her "beautiful instep."
And though she be eighty and cynical, still doth she believe a man's words when he voweth that he loveth her.
And she is NOT pleased if he assureth her that it is for "beauties of the SOUL" that he loveth her!
Go to, my Daughter. Let us give thanks for woman's vanity! For it is her sustaining virtue—and her saving vice; and when the last spark of her vanity is lost, then doth the light go out of her heart.
Verily, verily, wise is he that remembereth a woman's vanity to keep it sacred.
For a man may destroy a woman's faith and shatter her hopes and wreck her illusions, and yet hold her devotion.
But he that hitteth her VANITY striketh a death blow at her love!

Did You Ever Try—

Baked Bread Pudding.
Grate a loaf of stale bread and let it stand to dry well. Add a half cupful of flour, six beaten eggs, a half cupful of sugar, a little nutmeg and a little vanilla. Pour this mixture into a flour bag and let it boil for an hour and a quarter. Serve the pudding on a hot plate with a fruit sauce or a rich pudding sauce. Some persons like just a hard sauce with this pudding.

A dash of some piquant sauce over the real chops? Put it on just before serving.

Whiting for cleaning silver? It is less expensive than silver polish and just as good. Some housewives add a little ammonia to the paste.

That when sewing snaps or hooks and eyes on the pocket of a skirt it is advisable to sew one pair at the very bottom, then fasten them and crush them flat. This will keep the pocket from tearing into the skirt.

Appetite Overcomes Caution

up. They carried every scent that they could find. They blew in Buster's face. Buster didn't heed them. He didn't listen to the little sounds they carried. He didn't sniff to catch the little scents they carried. He was too greedy. He thought of nothing but filling that big stomach of his with those big, sweet, delicious berries.

Now the Merry Little Breezes are among Buster's best friends. In fact, he has no better friends. When they found that he would pay no attention to them at all they were both hurt and a wee bit provoked. They had done their best to warn him that there was some one in the Old Pasture whom he probably would rather not meet. Now they decided to go off and leave him alone.

"Did you ever see such a greedy fellow?" exclaimed one as they danced away, leaving Buster alone.

"It will serve him right if he gets a good scare," said another. "He has forgotten that he has eyes for anything but to see blueberries. He has forgotten that he has ears or nose at all. He is thinking of nothing but his stomach. How any one can allow appetite to rule him completely is more than I can understand."

But Buster heard nothing of this. He continued to strip those berries from the bushes into his mouth and occasionally grunt with pleasure. He might have been the only person in all the Great World for all the thought he gave to others. Buster was pigish. He certainly was pigish. Could you have watched him you would have thought that he had an idea that somehow those berries were likely to suddenly disappear and that he must get all he could before this happened.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 20.
Evidence of a secret agreement between the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and the Sinclair Refining Co. by which competition of independent oil companies was to be eliminated in Missouri to get control of gasoline prices, was disclosed today in a resumption of the hearing at which Attorney-General Barry is seeking to determine if the Standard has been violating the Missouri antitrust laws.

The witness who made these disclosures was C. M. Reynolds, Kansas City, former city sales manager there of the Sinclair company. Reynolds testified at the hearing that as sales manager he was forbidden by superior, a local business of the Standard, to go after the business of independent dealers with a view of doing them from the State.

On April 27, about 10 days before the time Reynolds made the play of Sinclair, he made an affidavit concerning the alleged secret methods of his company, certain business understandings with the Standard, Attorney-General Barrett today read this affidavit to Reynolds, and the latter affirmed as fact on the witness stand what was read. This affidavit became part of the record.

Division Managers Met.
In it Reynolds set forth that the Sinclair division managers met in Kansas City Jan. 12, 1922, were informed by W. T. Dietrich, district manager, that sales were to be made necessary elimination of all competitors except the Standard. It was testified he was told to do this and cut prices for purpose. He said he called all managers together and so instructed them.

As a consequence, Reynolds testified the Sinclair company got a new filling station accounts with a week by paying the dealers to $12 a month for pump rental and 1/4 to 1 cent a gallon rebate gasoline.

It appears, according to Reynolds, that a Standard account also obtained in this drive, but not taken because of a protest of H. C. Griffen, Kansas City manager of the Standard.

At about the same time, according to Reynolds' affidavit and testimony, the Sinclair company made an agreement with the Gasoline Association of Kansas to pay into the association's treasury a rebate of 1/4 of a cent a gallon on Sinclair gasoline sold to members of the association, $10 a month pump rental to dealers. This brought a difference between tank and filling station gasoline and the practice was stopped, Reynolds testified, and the agreement was accordingly abrogated.

Bought Deal With City.
At one time the Sinclair company wanted the business of city of Kansas City, Reynolds testified, and a Sinclair representative was instructed to call on Mayor J. Welch, Justice of the Peace and politician, and offer him a deal of 1 cent a gallon on all city gasoline that could be sold through his influence. What came of this proposal was not brought out today.

Several checks alleged to be ranging in amounts from $100 to $500 and made payable to Reynolds, were shown to the court. He identified them as checks he declared he was instructed to make by the Sinclair company and for which he was reimbursed through his expense account.

Testimony that oil companies wanting in Kansas City had been rebating was given by H. C. Griffen, manager of the Sinclair White Tank Co. in Kansas. Griffen said he formerly checked gasoline from the Sinclair Refining Co. until about a year ago.
